

LEARNING for LIVING

Dear Readers,

Nearing the end of my campaign let me say that it is not just that I am getting old; more important is that enough information has been set out to awaken those capable of being awakened to cultural reality.

Today, as corruption flourishes, I offer a statement from another on a similar mission. Not just to remind all that this is not just a one-horse race but also to add emphasis to the vital need of bringing the whole picture into the focus of logical order. The quotes I am going to give are mainly from a 24 page statement made in 2003 and will include the website so that you can read the original.

My reason for this reminder is because we really need to become aware that this information is neither secret nor exclusive to dedicated individuals. As we will see there are quite substantial organisations working to expose social corruption but nothing can be achieved until we unite to expose the organization of the many elements involved in this human atrocity.

The point I must try to make clear here is that serious campaigning has been carried out over generations without change or damage to the establishment program – a program designed for enslavement with corruption, robbery and abuse of human rights.

WHY WAS THAT POSSIBLE?

Having (along with many others working in this area) put the effort of a long lifetime into understanding life and the world we live in, why has all this great effort failed to slow the advance of mind manipulation and physical despotism?

It is like the blind men and the elephant. Each walks up, feels a part and decides he had discovered what an elephant is!

That is our problem: life is a very large elephant:

One Feels the health system and says International Pharmacy runs it for greed and usury and we have to expose it to cure the problem.

One Feels the political system and says it is a sham democracy! It is essential this be exposed. If this is not done the problem cannot be cured.

One Feels the education system and points out that it is based on false philosophy. If this is exposed it will cure the problem.

There are at least a half-dozen big issues (finance and Global Warming are big news today). We must see that (though morally bankrupt) those planning our demise do plan cleverly. Single issues don't explain our problem sufficiently to convince the general public that a sincere 'change-of-life-attitude' is needed.

Until activists see that the problem is bigger than their pet issue and combine to unify the issues so that at least those informed start working as one, then we will continue to loose the war just as surely as we have for the last 100 years. Self-sacrifice is the price we pay if we are to develop life in peace and harmony.

Isolated problems are not sufficient to convince the uninformed that we are faced with a life/death issue worthy of wartime dedication and effort.

To illustrate this I now quote from Website: < www.dr-rath-foundation.org > where a questioner asks:

"After your campaign against war on Iraq, the public is interested to know more about you, can you please give us more information about your achievements?"

A Crucial Moment In History

Al "First of all let me emphasize, I'm a doctor, a scientist and – above all – a human being, an inhabitant of our planet with the desire to keep this planet intact and not to allow it to be incinerated in a third world war.

"As a doctor and scientist I was privileged to contribute to several areas which I believe will allow mankind to build a healthier and hopefully more peaceful world. My discoveries in the area of natural health (prevention and treatment of cardiovascular disease) will allow us to largely eradicate heart attacks, strokes, high blood pressure, heart failure, irregular heart beat and a variety of other related conditions in this and the future generations of mankind.

"The second contribution to mankind I made was the exposure of the pharmaceutical industry as the largest investment industry on earth, maintaining and promoting one of the largest deception and fraud schemes in the history of mankind. While the advertisements promise "health" the very market place of this investment industry is the existence and expansion of diseases.

"Prevention, root cause treatment and eradication of diseases threaten the pharmaceutical "investment business ..." [prevention is] therefore fought by the so-called pharmaceutical cartel.

"In a public presentation in June 1997, I formulated for the first time the sobering analysis, that the very industry that claims the monopoly on global "health care" is by itself the biggest obstacle for the people of the world to enjoy a healthy life.

"The third accomplishment I consider noteworthy is the fact that I was able to spread this life saving information and analysis on a global scale. By doing that it became so threatening to the multi-trillion dollar pharmaceutical investment group that it is now seeking to cement its global grip on the people of the world with the help of legal force through protection laws and the abandoning of civil rights.

The pretence for this strategy is the so-called global "war on terrorism". This war against "terrorism" is not a real war. It is strategically developed and implemented to create a global state of fear and intimidation that allows the implementation of such drastic legal measures not only in America, but also around the world.

"My closest co-workers foresaw this development more than a decade ago. It was at that time that the late two-time Nobel Laureate Linus Pauling said: "Your discoveries are so important that they threaten entire industries. One day there may even be wars just to prevent your breakthrough from being widely accepted." End Quotes from this item.

" Disease Business " (The beginnings!)

"The most powerful economic... corporate emporium in the first half of this century was the Interessengemeinschaft Farben or IG Farben, for short. ... [standing for] "Association of Common Interests" and was nothing more than a powerful cartel of Bayer, BASF, Hoechst, and other German chemical and pharmaceutical companies. IG Farben was the single largest donor to the election campaign of Adolph Hitler." End Quotes from Dr. Rath Foundation.

NOTE: the IG Farben cartel (disguised) continued in global expansion after WW2 to include the powerful oil industry and there is little doubt that this world-governing cartel now includes the bulk of international commerce; the US Federal Reserve (critical to financial meltdown) the 'tin man' of mass media printing and the tame 'lion' of entertainment, they with all important political control systems danced merrily down the 'Yellow Brick Road' to this wonderful Wizard of OZ (World Power).

What is IMPORTANT!

Whether Dr Rath was the first to give public exposure to all the facts he presents is not important. We who investigate these matters just do not have time to investigate so thoroughly as to also read significant volume of the massive literature presented by others. Who revealed what, first, is not important!

What is important is that there is not even room to argue that all this combined exposure has not stopped, or even slowed, the advance of a despotic progress that undoubtedly anticipated, and allowed room for all 'whistle-blower' exposure.

Given dominance of finance and trade, despots control news-gathering media. Money holds University heads above water to direct education and all non-democratic aspects of government. Even the great efforts of such as Dr. Rath have not brought the evidence together to expose this and, with Global Warming looming, time is running out!

SO! WAKE-UP WORLD!

The final act of takeover of the earth and elimination of surplus population will require a chaotic confusion where the masses will be led to fight and destroy themselves in a struggle for survival. So we must stop carrying the banner for our indoctrinated ideological preferences and devote ourselves to seeing the whole picture logically combined in life's intelligent order. If we do this then we head in the right direction and regain control.

The meek shall inherit the earth. We might also find Christian Scriptures at "Revelation of John" 18 interesting. Here we see (clearly stated) the destruction of the Great Whore (The City of Commerce).

Why has health care failed?

Why are we unable to understand Democracy?

Why don't we understand "Global Warming"?

Why are we so ignorant of simple economics?

Why do we beg for improved mis-education?

Why do we wallow in false philosophies?

Why can we no longer use the logical ability we were born with?
