*I am Quantum:
I can leap!*

I leap spaces to find what is on the other side.

This is exciting because with every leap I learn and, in learning so I become.

*The young at heart like to make leaps;
we are born intellect hungry; but,
because of misleading cultural indoctrination, most soon become confused and arrogant.*

When confronted by needs of change we snarl in defiance from peer-group cages.

*Do you like adventure?
I hope so because, if not,
you won't take up learning opportunities and never will know what you are,
or could be.*

*Come! Join us! All you need is a little

Introduction:

WHY?

Why go where mind, in dark fear for self,
doth dread?

Why go where foot, in trembling of its-self,
doth fear to tread?

WHY!

For Man, no creature slave to nature's ties.
we seek all truth, all treasure to our eyes.

Where yet to venture, we'll be found.

While creation hides unknowns,
our mind is bound.

Why develop understanding of creation's truth – of purpose and progress of life?

Do we, world citizens, feel desire to think for ourselves – to be no longer biological slaves to dictated fads and fashions?

By compulsory education, seduction and indoctrination, people-shapers have led human life into a darkness where light of truth brings fear!

Light reveals reason for horrors now accomplished by mind's deformed reasoning; it reveals the shame of crimes committed in ignorance as we hide in our subconscious what we are ashamed to face.

Life needs clear light! Human behaviour, at all levels, is in dangerous decline. We need to understand the time over which our corruption has been achieved, and why! This insight from Elyot in 1571 may help:

"And verily I do suppose that in the braines and the hertes of children, which be members spirituall, whiles they be tender, and the little slippes of reason begynne in them to bud, ther may happe by evil custom some pestiferous dewe of vice to perse the saide members, and infecte and corrupt the softe and tender buddes [buds]."

Deep in our culture lurks a dark shadow and every culture of any standing knows it as evil. Understanding of our true selves is delayed because we are pulled in two directions.

Our animal instincts are designed for survival in the generations before human understanding develops. In early ages we had to hold to tribe and peer group for survival; this instinct was vital. The leader was the Law! To leave our group was suicidal. We learned to think uncritically! If leaders began admitting mistakes, then uncertainties and splits developed.

Whether political, moral or religious, unity was basic to the survival of past civilizations. Still bound by primitive instinct, human development now depends on breaking bonds to group slavery, to fads and false gods. Survival now depends on intelligence gaining free access to truth!

The difference is clear if we compare technological advance with decline in cultural behaviour. With technology now largely free of group loyalty, our challenge to science is that it is not pulling its weight to expose cultural enslavement, an enslavement where technology is used to indoctrinate and maintain primitive elitist philosophy.

Government now running our world is, at best morally, criminal! Not truly secret, behind scenes government does not make its presence so obvious as to be resisted by those who don't deliberately look for it, so those who do look, the naturally curious, develop in isolation.

This is Part 5 of a five book series so, accepting the cultural shock, this review begins at beginnings! Without recorded evidence our early restraints are logic and science in association with ancient memories that, in logic, could not have been born of primitive man. Survival now requires we seek logical unity of the past, the present, and the eternal truth.

This treatise is about life and like life develops from beginning to end. Those who jump ahead to take samples destroy context and create frustration and confusion for themselves. These, as so many today, think they know what they read but fail to digest its meaning.

Part 1:

A fresh look at Creation

At the beginning:

*At the beginning was nothing!

Nothing was all that existed!*

There was no movement because nothing cannot move!

There was no time because time cannot exist without movement.

There was no sound because sound cannot exist without time.

There was neither darkness nor light because both are invisible when alone.

There was no space because space must begin between things.

There was neither good nor evil.

At the beginning nothing was alone!

But then a thought occurred; it had no size; it did not move; it did not make a sound; it was neither dark nor light but ----- it was aware -----thereby----- it made a hole in nothing!

Mind sighs in dreams eternal

Nothing, felt the hole and feeling itself threatened, was annoyed. The hole meant change; nothing knew nothing, and change was not acceptable; change was a disturbance! So change made nothing angry! Anger creates energy and nothing sought to resist its mutilation.

Mind sighs in dreams eternal

The thought was an awakening of mind. The mind felt its existence! The awakening mind did not yet know of space or time but liked the feeling of being. Being pursued its feeling!

In feeling was the thought, "What am I" but without words of expression it floated in a timeless void for perhaps an eternity. Eventually the feeling thought of itself as "I". I what? It created the word "AM" to mean exist, then finally the vital word to create the question of its puzzlement: "WHAT am I?"

Having found words to ask itself: What am I? It had discovered language, without this it could not describe feeling; without words memory is uncertain because mind has no clue to hold to.

Having discovered a dimension of being, mind had found ability to create words for memory and question; it must next discover a dimension of conclusion.

Mind, having found it's Being, was enabled to create language with which to construct images and to ask and answer questions of itself. Invention of words of set meaning allowed thought to develop, language allowed visualization: words were the beginning of knowledge.

Mind sighs in dreams eternal

Thoughts made more holes in nothing; nothing became more disturbed, more energetic, and resisted more strongly.

Because time then had no meaning, we may think of these events happening in no time at all or of being in a limitless time but, however we think of it, mind had not yet formed the concept of creation so, to it, time and space did not exist.

Mind came to realize that if it thought two points as beginnings then, where they were closest, there would be like 'two sides'; two sides of what? A space has dimension; was this the beginning of something?

By stretching, in imagination, a point became a line. By stretching a point around another, it became a circle that had both an inside and an outside.

Then again, if the mind imagined two points stretched around each other without meeting a twin spiral formed and, no matter how far the mind took this, it need never end. How intriguing it seemed!

But in stretching the point the mind had created a dimension of space and by turning this line a second dimension was found. The energy put into creating a spiral caused the spiral to vibrate and a third dimension of space was uncovered.

So the mind now saw that it had three dimensions of space to play with. It then saw that the stretching of the points had required movement and as there must be something between beginning and end of a movement, mind called it time; and as the spiral could be endless there could be endless time.

Mind then came to realize that what seems like nothing may be just something that exists in some unknown form.

Even later it would come to find that even the mathematics of geometry could not complete the construction of everything because even the simple circle was not complete within the limits of mathematics.

NOTE 1: Scientists today are not comfortable with the idea of adding dimensions that they cannot see, touch or measure. This may be because of the difficulty of visualizing dimensions other than those physical but, for whatever reason, it is a serious restriction because scientists cannot explain our universe within the laws and dimensions they accept. Also, as neither time nor mind requires space, humanity cannot logically or intellectually avoid non-physical dimensions.

I propose that mind is our first dimension. Intelligence is more than seeing and hearing, more than addition and subtraction! Without mind we are life-less – just biological assemblies: stunned fish: or TVs without electricity.

To be human requires an advanced dimension of mind! Death seems to be just a transfer of mind from body. The body may be complete and will operate as normal if the mind can be induced to return.

Understanding was allowed by the invention of descriptive language and that is why the anti-life, seeking return to rest, looks to destroy language.

Mind, with words, gives us awareness of self and awareness of past and future. It allows ability to plan for the future, to change or plan the course of events; and, though not essential to a four-dimensional universe, it is essential to the meaning, the purpose and the creation of humanity!

What is the universe of the mind dimension like if isolated from volume and time? That may be unimaginable, but I can suggest it logically contains or exists within a primal force: a form that, originally, is united, unstructured and at rest. Also, although in this state it does not register as existing physically, it does appear to occupy some dimension as only by adding some unknown source of weight or gravity, can our science bring the forces within our universe, into balance.

Perhaps individual elements of dimension may be separated and mixed to create different universes? If human mind can accept the possibility of universes in other constructions of dimensions, we can appreciate that our universe may have been created for a specific purpose.

Is there a third element to the non-physical measure of dimensions? Is spirit not also involved, both in our dimensions and the primal dimensions? If mind exists within the primal, then primal mind, primal spirit and primal energy may coexist, as do dimensions of length, depth and breadth in our physical universe. All seem non-existing until activated.

Thus we see Mind, Energy and Spirit form a construct of dimension just as depth, length and breadth form a construction of space. Time is revealed by mind in discovery of the dimensions of space, and science cannot dispute that division of primal energy creates gravity because it does not yet understand the nature of gravity.

So we, in this creation are in confines of a space dimension but have access to eternal dimensions of being necessary for, and part of, human construction. These only become accepted when intellectual development advances to meet need of these answers. Does that, itself, not challenge us? E. N. 1.

Mind becomes "The Creator" and decides to create human life after agreement with the, now divided, primal-energy force.

The mind was becoming ever more excited! Having discovered three dimensions and space it imagined three straight lines at right angles to each other, and admired this. There was now length, breadth, depth, space, time, and self; the sense of something beginning increased.

Mind, continuing its search, discovered patterns and laws of construction that could be expressed by language, numbers and shapes.

So it came to pass that mind realized that though it did not itself have shape or substance and was unstructured in a physical sense, (some still challenge that it has separate identity) it could use energy created by division of its primal component and with laws of construction in time and space, create everything possible! Mind thereby became.... "The Creator" .. and so came the beginning of physical life.

Note 2: An item from the esoteric past supports this as being knowledge offered to mankind at our beginning. It is to be found in the Egyptian "Book of the Dead" T.G. Allen translation. This is not something early man could have conceived of because only now do we accept the possibility of other dimensions and only in recent times have we developed the language to appreciate it. Quote from page 154:

"I am Atum, who made the sky, who created what exists, who begat the gods; great God who came into being of himself."

Note the name Atum, (written long before we knew of atoms, the base for the entire physical creation?) End Note 2.

While all this was going on nothing i.e. primal matter at rest, was becoming more and more agitated; the more divisions mind made the more spaces appeared.

Though these spaces were at first tiny, primal matter became more and more divided and the more divided the more anger and the more energy it produced in trying to pull itself together.

Unlike mind, primal matter (let's call it UPM, for Undivided Primal Matter) was not able to be intellectually creative. It felt change and resisted but though we, in our dimensional universe may not yet be convinced of its existence, it, UPM, was really an undivided/unstructured primal matter in a combined state of being. As here proposed it included Mind & Spirit.

The creation idea is born:

As result of primal matter trying to remain united "The Creator" saw that, division of primal matter created force. It called this force energy and this unifying force also is (or creates) the force we call gravity.

Note 3: Today we still doubt the existence of primal matter, it is non-existing to us because without structure it has no feature in common evidence to our physical senses or instruments.

Instruments composed of materials formed and composed of patterns of energy, are designed to measure or detect other such formations. When the positive and negative of energy is united, as in primal matter, it is not detected by human senses. It is only by use of intellect in combination with implements we create to magnify our senses that we find evidence of primal matter.

Our science now admits that the creation could not exist within the limits of present physics! Or, as the public media has put it, "Nine-tenths of our universe is missing!" It seems that what we call space is not entirely empty and what we call empty space, includes Unstructured Primal Matter (UPM): "dark matter".

To avoid breaking conventions imposed by scientists who recognize only what they can measure, the existence of that which is normally beyond common measure is still deemed not to exist. But those less bowing to convention see that there must be other forms of existence and take the quantum leap into the unknown to see that there must be something beyond physical structures and forces.

We MAY call other components of being 'dimensions' or forms of being, but full explanation of the unification of laws of our creation require an understanding of being that goes beyond spatial constructions.

We need to include primal forces of mind, energy and spirit that exist beyond structure. Dogma of conventional meaning cannot be allowed to limit scientific exploration.

UPM, in division, takes on a form of physical force and becomes an energy seeking to regain unity. Formations of energy create the atoms that, comprise all forms of matter in our common dimensions; but though energy is part of 'every-THING', it cannot be everything. End Note 3.

The Creator became bored with creating shapes and patterns and learning their laws: feelings of loneliness began. It thereby became aware of feelings we call human.

The creative thought persisted and mind further organised itself: "If I can create things that move independently of laws and solve problems as I do, then more things could be created, and adventures and delights could be shared."

It would be so much more rewarding to share all that could be created and discover all that is possible."

And what The Creator had faith to make happen it did. For it was mind, and mind had power to divide the UPM so as to create and harness energy and, by such division, create real space. Knowing the laws it felt it could find a way to create all it could imagine; feelings of excitement grew.

To learn and then assemble eternal laws into a new "life Form" required almost infinite time, so The Creator began the incredibly complex task of finding out how to assemble a life-form that would be able to operate beyond set physical patterns and share creative ability.

Among The Creator's findings was that, to give creative power to another form, it would have to give something of its self.

It had to give spiritual Authority for this new form to act and spiritual Perception for this new form to distinguish between truth and error if it was to realize needed potential. To do this it must create a physical being with the physical means to use assets having no physical structure! That too appeared impossible.

How could The Creator infuse some of its intellectual self into such a life-form? Could it make such self-sacrifice for its desired concept?

And then it became confident that anything that it could conceive in intellect it could create in substance! All designed in order of truth could be formed from energy but living things needed even more if they would achieve what the Creator needed.

The Ultimate Creation

The ultimate needed to laugh and to cry
To conquer the earth, the water, the sky
To learn how to do it and learn how to die.

To find thoughts to sing on
And dreamings to swing on.
Divide the truth from the error
Move by love, not by terror.
Learn by what we have schemed
A hard road it seemed.

We needed friends to share with
To love and to care with.
Truth's challenge: how to know it and courage to grow it.

Living things had to be designed to be able to do all that needed doing to achieve what the Creator had in mind.

The human design had to include ability to do, or achieve, everything all other life forms had been designed to do, and create new abilities if needed.

To learn that creations must serve in truth to achieve their designed purpose we had to have provision for abilities to achieve whatever inspiration could design in truth.

Note 4: The UPM of spiritual being is, to many, non-existing and frightening. But developing minds, finding need to take the quantum leap, see that some unifying force is needed to explain the physical creation and mind has to be the vital heart of it.

Plausible explanation, lacking Authority and Perception is self-deception; it lacks ability of mind to perceive of spiritual reality and authority. Support for this is also found in the Egyptian Book of the Dead page 98.

Quote: "They are the drops of blood that dropped from the phallus of Re when He set about cutting Himself. Then they became gods ... They are Authority and Perception, who are in the train of their father Atum daily."

Was early mankind, limited by language, misunderstanding the original information? Or was the Creator given various names in attempt to express meaning to primitive man? Did the creator's own origin require a freedom of expression to help growth of understanding?

Did that knowledge, reveal that the Egyptian or Israeli priests saw the importance of this ancient statement about the nature of intellect even though, without language to convey its understanding, they had to express the transfer in human terms?

Did this problem cause the idea to be omitted from the later reconstruction of the Bible with the uniting of Israel and Judea?

Although the above quote is not in our present Old Testament, it seems highly probable that this was its place of origin and this interpretation may also be the origin of man giving to God a male image.

To make the meaningful part of that quote up, religious leaders would have had to perceive of just how basic Authority and Perception are to creative intellect though having no words to understand it in native language!

Even up to now, we have not acclaimed this or the need to transfer these forces from their spiritual origin in order to create new intelligence? End Note 4.

In our time of dangerous confusion it is important we have a meaningful explanation of creations beginning. This cannot, nor does it need, be perfect but to advance we now need to explain our origins within a logic in keeping with our development.

If you think that unreasonable, remember: plausible explanations, allowed a theory (an idea that cannot be described as other than theory as it has no true scientific backing) to convince almost everyone that evolution was fact even though, given any further development of understanding, it becomes as silly as flat-earth theory.

To advance we must avoid the tempting of the anti-life and confine understanding to best (truth loving) guidelines.

To the brink of despair!

Finding and solving the problems of creation may have been even harder than the Creator could first have imagined. Were there times of despair of ever finding all the answers needed to conceptualise and create "a living and reasoning" being?

To achieve its desire, mind needed living physical life forms. It needed real-time to infuse real-time experiences such as joy and sorrow; pleasure and pain; triumph and despair. Equally difficult it required quantum leaps: natural laws resist exchange between sets of dimensions.

To create a true independent intellect, great forces need be harnessed. Movement and space were necessary for development of a new intellect and some forces must be finely balanced!

To enable individuality for Authority and Perception, physical constructions need bonding to the spiritual dimension. To create an intellect able to work with The Creator the Creator had to invent the quantum leap.

Would it be possible? Could The Creator bear to share its unique self? Could it maintain the creation, or would a creation, resisted by its energy base, be forced to relapse before the plan was complete?

But The Creator saw that its "new being" would have the example of a creation made for it, so it could develop more quickly. The creation of which it was part could inspire the new form and reveal to it that great things were possible – the new would not have to start alone. The Creator then proceeded to design and shape energy to the "word/order of truth" as needed to create intelligent biological life.

The WORD (or PLAN) to express: "the organization of energy so as to transfer spiritual life into a being within a material universe", was beyond explaining to primitive mankind!

As planning of the 'WORD' i.e. plan, advanced, the resistance of Primal Matter grew stronger and more determined to reunite itself.

So the "Creative" spirit opened a line of communication with the "Energy" spirit. To say: "I am mind, you are energy, you do not want to be disturbed, I want the excitement and adventure of discovering everything that is or can be; it may be to our mutual benefit in the end."

Communication was long and frustrating but finally: "I do all the work, Energy objected: I am being sacrificed! I will only agree if you let me have equal power, as your concept matures, to put my case in order that the life you create has equal choice of activity or rest! Let us see if what is created really feels advantaged by its being created."

"We are two but we are one", the Creator replied: "I need your power and agree that it is fair that you should have equal say, but I have to be truthful for the creation must be within its eternal truth and you do not see this. I cannot force you to be other than tricky, misleading or deceitful, (Energy has no moral concept!) I cannot say your way is wrong; for in ways we are equal."

"I will agree to your terms so long as you understand and accept that you cannot misuse my Truth as part of your trickery. You may pretend that your way is only a different and better way of doing things, though that is not true."

When things are done your way, results will be detrimental to the life created.

"You can deny this and try to hide it and claim these results are other than they are. But if you accept that you are not allowed, by powers, to change the factual truth of results, then I am confident that the intelligence generated by the Perception and Authority growing in my people, will cause them to escape your deceptions."

Note 5: TRUTH is the nature of legitimate ORDER; legitimate order maximises structural force. Truth gives AUTHORITY for structural arrangement; the base of creation is truth.

Only Truth creates the base for PERCEPTION: the ability to perceive of the consequences of the order to be created; Truth gives Authority for creation. These allow intelligence to understand outcomes for permanence something that genetically programmed animals can never attain.

But mankind has to begin as an animal with a brain of sufficient power to develop in logic and truth of structure so as to gain Authority and Perception of consequences attendant on structural truth.

Even now our best science does not see that the unifying force behind the laws on which the universe relies is only explained by the spiritual force we call Intelligence. E.N. 5

The form of the creation is concluded.

Finally the twin force in primal matter: so vital to the project, agreed. It would have partnership in the creation: it would equally take on its form in the mind of the children of The Creator and would promote its influence as an equal to achieve final return to rest. Only at the end of the development phase, when the result was in, would the final decision be made.

To energy it seemed a fair gamble; it did not see how mind could create anything more attractive than rest.

The energy force, though negative, could feel, react and learn, but its learning was restricted for it did not have the "Authority & Perception" given by truth – it could not visualise the consequences of structures.

The negative force, with attributes of animals rather than humans, could learn from its human component if it avoided animal pride. There we see the origin of the Beast within us as revealed in scriptures.

So, in the common view of it today, energy became the "Dark Force" or The Devil in the Creation.

Note 6: Investigators may note that the concept of good and evil twins or brothers is not unknown in ancient religious literature. Life is born of opposing forces. E. N. 6.

Mind, though honest in its need of its twin, was not entirely open with it. The challenge presented by the opposition of the Dark Force to the creation extended beyond the needs of energy.

The challenging resistance of the Dark Force to the development of new mind was essential to the project equally with the need for energy.

Spiritual development required that the reluctant twin work in its true nature in its opposition. Just as mind, in its own self, had been challenged and pushed to the brink of despair, so also, must the new life-form.

Just as there was need of division to create energy, darkness and light; division was needed for understanding good and evil.

Had the reluctant twin known that its instinctive resistance was essential to the successful achievement of The Creator's project, it would not, in the new creation, be able to react entirely as was normal to it. If it did not react as in the original development of mind – if it acted with bias in regard to the new development, it thereby might create unforeseeable consequences.

The Creator needed a working agreement before proceeding to create the spiritually opposed identities within the new life-form, so it could not inform its twin that the need of its partnership included energy's negativity as well as energy's power.

This secret allowed the WORD to be completed; the creation's potential to be achieved. All that was to be enabled within the concept of the creation could (as it must) then be planned before any atom of it was created. As the atomic formation of the Creation would enable the final result the battle of the eternal would continue; and so it came to be!

Our Creator, as scriptures say, created both good and evil in our dimensions. Good representing the TRUTH of the principles of order and evil is the anti-life force dedicated to return to the peace of unstructured rest.

These would be natural in their activity and we, the children, were warned of the battle between satisfactions of achievement as against the peace of death – of the disabling power of pride and prejudice – of the benefits of love and compassion. However the limited understanding of early ancestors meant that it soon became seen as a battle between good and evil.

Scriptures (though time polluted) may well be our set exam for entry to the eternal wisdom allowed us from our beginning as balancing stimulants for our development.

Completion, after all the effort, must have been a great relief to The Creator. It had entirely ignored time and so, though it may have taken an eternity, or even longer, to achieve success, The Creator finally (in sense of this creation) had all the answers.

As the Creator knew its children would have hard times and get no pity from the anti-life, a day for rest after six days of work was included. Let us also see the need to give our own children time for contemplation along with healthy activity and learning.

So the WORD became God of our creation. The WORD was the plan in TRUTH and what the word was, God was; and what God was, the WORD was; and that was .. the truth of the way to the creation of life in all its designed aspects.

The WORD, (the planned design of the creation) was complete, but the Creation had yet to begin. Verified by scripture; see John, 1:1-4, quote: "When all things began, the Word already was. The Word dwelt with God, and what God was, the Word was. The Word then, was with God at the beginning, and through Him all things came to be; no single thing was created without Him. All that came to be was alive with His life, and that life was the life of men."

Note 7: Origins could not have occurred by chance; or described by man without revelations. Even today man does not see that design must come before true structure.

This understanding eliminates all possibility of design by chance and natural selection. My description is not intended to be photocopy perfect but to present the forces at work with credibility more suited to our present development. End Note 7.

The WORD completed, The Creator says:

"Let there be light"!

The eternal "waters" divide explosively! Spaces form as countless trillions of energy particles form atoms; larger bodies of atoms became matter to concentrate in spinning masses. Smaller bodies spin into orbit around them to create seasons and tides. Some atoms are crushed to disintegration by gravity and the energy appears as light.

It was wondrous, the seeming impossible is made even more strange by the fact that almost all, even almost all of what we now see as solid matter, is space: space that mind used to separate the positive from the negative of universal being – division in an existence we are yet to explore.

The mind force kept the tiny particles apart and the dark force pulls all together, so all became one gigantic construction within the "the waters" as described by The Creator.

As disorder settles into designed order, tiny life-forms take on the complexities of their order with genes in place to seed future life-forms that are, in turn, designed to serve the progressive development of earth as needed until earth became suited to the human development project.

In its eternal odyssey The Creator had learned the truth of structures: The human of this development; yet to be completed, must learn to love truth beyond all selfish ends for, on truth, life itself depends.

A time to relax! Like the human body each part of this story is interconnected. It is not complete until it is finished. In bringing our creation up to date with our development we do this in unity with the logic, science and evidence of our history. Print out for easier understanding and discussion.

Part 2:

Science and Evidence

The Logic of Intelligence:

Jesus describes God as a spiritual, not physical, being. Even at that time humanity had developed sufficiently to appreciate that there must be forces beyond those of common experience.

Spiritual occupies dimensions other than physical. Jesus took on the problems of a physical body in order to communicate meaningfully with us. To know God we need to accept that life's purpose is development of spiritual intellect. The physical (as scriptures confirm) is disposable. We need to learn to know our Creator: To know truth is to love Truth. Truth is a spiritual essence.

We are created by intellect for intellectual growth.

Matthew. 18:18, quote; Jesus:

I tell you this: whatever you forbid on earth shall be forbidden in heaven, and whatever you allow on earth shall be allowed in heaven."

We may think that strange – beyond belief! It is contrary to all we imagine of God within times of the Old Testament being written, translated and revised. Man, by his own thought, would not have that accepted!

That can only be seen as true if we are in development of intellectual spirit – a development that can only be completed after our intelligence accepts that human life is created by, and for, continued existence in spiritual intellect – that is, when our intelligence advances to see that creative intelligence can have its being in nothing other than the spiritual order of eternal truth.

Until we develop to full acceptance of this we will not be complete as designed; therefore we will not be fully creative in truth and not trustworthy to be in partnership with our creator.

That quote is probably the most definite statement we have that we are in development. It is the ultimate confirmation of this and it is further confirmed at John, 5:36. Here Jesus says he is to finish his Father's work. He thus confirms that we are an unfinished project.

Those fixated in dogmatic beliefs – those who place their convictions above truth – may find this challenge beyond their ability of self-sacrifice.

But those who put their faith in truth will perceive that the logic of their gift of intellect, within the order of the human creation, carries with it the authority of truth and continuing creative guidance.

Our creation is not a chance event doomed to stagnation; nor is it a concept of magic! It is a planned event secured within the confines of the order of truth. In Fact we may even consider if the word GOD may be the capitalized initials for Geometrically Ordered Destiny?

Are today's Christians the descendents of the "chosen people"? If so then the dominant Christian language would, logically, be the chosen language of interpretation. Today's English is a special and progressive mixture of advanced languages.

We also learn that, if left to our own socially ignorant decisions, we will (as scriptures say) destroy all life on earth. In social adolescence we cannot achieve the power of equality of decision with our Creator and will not be allowed to destroy humanity! Such destruction our science now admits to have become possible as direct result of our own foolishness.

Note 8: All scriptural quotes in this treatise are from "The New English Bible". This translation in modern English is authorized by protestant Churches with Roman Catholic observers. Production was agreed on in 1948 and to me it seems that this was about as late as we could obtain such a work before excessive influence from NWO, Humanist anti-life teachings. End Note 8.

Entering the End Times

In today's world we are now at a time when, by trickery, the anti-life force has allowed adolescents power of decision over parents, and parents assume (in pretence of loving) to protect their children from life rather than instil in them the discipline that they need to take responsibility for their own lives.

By advance of humanist* philosophy we have come to worship physical life (the disposable) rather than the spiritual (everlasting). The consequences, as we see are disastrous.

Technical power, lacking guidance by Authority and Perception, generates destruction to bring into view the prophecy of Jesus at Matthew 24: 21-22:

"It will be a time of great distress, such as has never been from the beginning of the world until now, and will never be again. If that time of troubles were not cut short, no living thing could survive; but for the sake of God's chosen it will be cut short."

Note 9: Humanism is the philosophic theory of the anti-life force that is working to replace human with a 'like' or 'fake' human in preparation for the extinction of life.

By deceiving human to see itself as no more than animal the anti-life force negates spiritual growth and expects to allow the return of natural chaos.

Humanist philosophy denies human spiritual content; it is a totally authoritarian philosophy in concealing evidence and claiming that human is no more than other life. Humanists, in denial of truth, are blind to the authority of truth and therefore lack perception of consequences; they judge within their own limitations.

Humanists are so aggressive in their claims because, out of their cultural depth, they fear what they do not understand – vandals seek to destroy what is beyond their ability to appreciate. This exposes why those who self-sacrifice, develop self-assurance and capacity for compassion – why these make allowances even for those who may harm them?

However, as the 'ignorant aggressive' become more domineering intellect has to stand firm (don't give pearls to swine). Spiritual strength makes it inevitable that the meek shall inherit the earth.

Humanism offers 'plausible' explanations because it lacks the authority for perception of truth – in claim of 'no truth' it claims authority of truth for itself.

Priests of animal-worship religion seek to deny advanced reasoning to humans and try to demonstrate these abilities in apes, but great efforts of training produce no useful result. Were their claim true their desires would prevail naturally. End Note 9.

Humanism restricts intellectual ability! It deprives children of intellectual access by gradual restriction of reading ability; by encouraging peer-group adoption of group word meanings and tempting distraction to physical pleasures and entertainments. It has to set attitudes in children because it has no logic to convince those who have become naturally adult in truth.

By consolidation of peer-group bonding and propaganda, cultures adopt false values. By seduction of children to love of animals we accept violent worldwide cultural upheaval as nature.

On saying the WORD the Creator became free for rest (at least in so far as our creation is concerned.) As the creation progresses from beginning to judgment the Creator cannot intercede. Rest or adventure is our choice.

But Jesus, in opposition to the anti-life force, helps those who seek spiritual strength through truth.

Of interaction between Jesus and His counterpart, scriptures give examples: When the Devil challenges Jesus to throw himself from a height to prove His identity. Jesus replies: "but scripture says: put not the Lord your God to the test".

In this he makes clear that we are responsible for our actions and, even if given protection, we should not try to use this protection to avoid responsibility.

Our actions are our responsibility. That is inalienable to our development and not for trade; that is the logical truth.

Intellectual life is mind working with laws in dimension of eternal truth. For the spiritual to work in combination with physical dimensions these dimensions have, at some level, to combine.

If we do not see that we were created by an intelligence – if we do not use our intelligence to appreciate that factors of intellect, truth and spirit are inter-dimensional and basic to our creation and its purpose – then we cannot understand what of the scriptures, or what writings of antiquity, are derived from the word of our Creator.

To become truly human we develop our given intellectual abilities and use these to appreciate the difference between the reality of the order of truth and the transience of our physical-emotional desires (the devil within).

We need to see that we cannot change our physical nature, without interaction with the spiritual. Only by exchange with the spiritual do we gain ability to make quantum leaps of insight to advance the foresight of perception and the authority of truth.

Time passes.

The physical universe needed time for physical developments and formation of earth's components to meet the needs of the human life-development.

We should now appreciate that all legitimate creations have to be planned by mind and physical change needs physical time. Let's give up simplistic childhood ideas and enter a new level of development.

a/ Chance cannot create in true order because it cannot foresee consequences of design. Chance changes act in the present, they are indiscriminate and cannot work in understanding of past or future; the ability of chance is confined because, to it, no past or future exists.

Natural selection is designed to repair chance damage when it may harm the ability of the design to serve in the environment it is designed to occupy. Natural selection, like chance, and man's undeveloped logic, is blind.

Between them Chance and Natural selection repair disabling damage while ensuring deletion of genes no longer needed. In this way biological mechanisms fulfil their potential within designed limits.

b/ It is in the nature of things that primal energy will gradually re-unite itself and this can only be countered by intelligence. All true creation is designed by mind to serve within limits of true order. Science cannot intelligently dispute this.

Creatures do not outlast their genetic capacities! That, and the reason for it, is long established.

Far more life-forms have become extinct than now exist and the reason for this is that they use up their reserves for genetic adaptation. They then die out because they cannot adapt to further environmental change.

Note 10: What we call "nature", will, unless mind intervenes, destroy itself. The anti-life has a beauty of innocence but it cannot preserve itself in life, its force is to disintegration. We excuse the brutality of nature for it is bound within its limits, but we must also accept that if we want to preserve nature we must develop intellect. Only by perception can we save that which, in innocence, serves us. End Note 10.

New life-forms appear, seemingly by metamorphose! Genes, along with unknown forces for change of design, are carried by original forms to be triggered by earth's environment becoming ready for their planned part in the scheme of life development. Our chance of finding these forces will improve dramatically when we mature to stop looking in the wrong direction.

Progressive change may look like magic or chance, but is neither. Our human development is now nearing a generational completion.

Issues may be expanded on in the "Supplement" or "Forum" at gniebxbbeing.

Transition by design is quite revealing in the case of the dolphin. The dolphin, we are told by science, was a land mammal before becoming a sea mammal. Metamorphose realigns genes within their transition limits.

The dolphin is the only animal family with a brain comparable with the human though its ability to use this brain was always limited by both living environment and physique.

This brain could not have been designed by chance and natural selection for unknown use in an unknown future.

Among all creatures ever to have lived on earth, this brain is enabled to full utilization of its potential only when in human possession. Without a human body this brain could not fulfil its potential; without this brain a human body could not fulfil its potential.

The human brain, with its potential of spiritual development, is the most complex part of the body, so how, after carried for millions of years by dolphins, could it reach us through any other surrogate source; or be created other than by intelligence for specific use?

No other surrogate carried this vital human feature. The animal body is of simple design and science now accepts that the body template, from its beginning, was complete with head, eyes, body, tail, limbs – the common base for all animal life.

Genes plus some other key for change are carried within this template. Legs/arms may adapt to wings or flippers; shapes may be changed for use, but not by magical evolution inventing new genes; it is a designed adaptation. Many a gene is lost by chance and natural selection but where are there any known to have been returned by evolution.

Despite continual propaganda such magic has no scientific or logical base. The only need for its incessant promotion is to maintain this decoy in the human mind.

The development of earth, to make it ready for the human development, was long and complex; it required the interaction of life forms and chemicals.

To design this was probably more difficult than design of the basic animal genome. It took millions of earth years for earth-life design to produce the resources needed to serve the human development project!

But humanity had its own time and its own place in the creation.

When The Creator found a way to make living things that would achieve development of spiritual mind, there was need to assist with challenging elements to speed development. But this help could not be obvious or force guidance, it must serve only as a stimulant and challenge for enquiry and development.

Information to help development ranged from birds to insects; variations of animal life from large to small; challenging similarities, mysterious ancient knowledge, structures and interplanetary teasers: all excellent for intellectual stimulation.

The original Bible & Book of Enoch:

This book, (originally a book of the Bible) told us that the Watchers did not have access to all knowledge. Given responsibility for overseeing early human development they were told not to reveal certain secrets to those in their care.

In the event the humans proved so attractive that the Watchers desired them and the devil in the Watchers convinced them that they could cohabit and take-over the project – make of themselves gods on earth. Ignoring that their own intellect was not complete, their desire, (as foreseen by the Creator) overcame their instructions. This set the ground-plan for the human test.

Were the first 'people', (those the Watchers were to watch over) humanoids: i.e. physically human but without human spirit? Did the Watchers instruct these to construct pre-technological structures ahead of the true human adventure? Did they use construction methods based on the Creator's understanding of geometry and non-human techniques? Did they use secrets, along with fortune-telling and mysteries of language in our time called "Gematria". *

[* "Gematria"; a Cabbalistic method of interpreting Hebrew scripture. As now understood it appears to be a language in combination with, or based on, mathematics/geometry; a language such as we might expect as the language of a Creator who is alone and communicating alone in development of his Creation.

This, if now given proper study, may add more visibility to the eternal being.]

Physical structures, built pre-human, would challenge human intellectual development with evidence of human potential. Were early civilizations set in place so that, in later times, they might tantalize true humans as their remains were found and disputed?

Later, to the children for human development, came the child level story of Adam & Eve and the Serpent in the Garden of Eden. These were not just fantasies though human embroidery may make them appear so. But note: the Book of Enoch was replaced with a fanciful human interpretation of earthly origins.

Animal and human life forms WERE created from the materials of the earth. The serpent represents a real devilish seducer. However the Adam and Eve concept is a human addition, not logical, all animals male and female are designed as a pair.

The idea that Eve was created from Adams rib is clearly an invention of mankind along with the idea of God being male. On the authority of Jesus, there is no male and female in heaven and our creation in its conclusion will, as revealed by scripture and reason, be spiritual in likeness to our Creator not physical as to animals.

The ejection from the garden represented the need for intellectual conversion. This had to have a beginning and grow as mental accomplishment within the physical mind. So we have this symbolic fall from the perfection of the design to accomplish the planned perfection.

The allegorical fall – a portrayal acceptable to early man. A division of "waters" is a legitimate way to describe, to early humans, the division of the eternal.

Note 11: January 2007 media announced: Projecting laser light into space from the Hubble telescope showed deviations of line indicating invisible matter of irregular form.
End Note 11.

It is not surprising that religions, created by mankind's desire, could not see the reality. Early humanity needed complex realities to be presented in simplified language and in form that would live within their understanding.

Young humanity, needed protection from premature awareness of human intellectual responsibility! Childhood, in terms of human development, is, as with the family child, an important time of preparation and development!

We, during the adolescence of 'human development', could not be exposed to matters of adult human responsibility. As with our own children, we are born with animal survival instincts not with adult knowledge; to give adult responsibilities into such care (as is now evident) is to court disaster.

Other life-forms were not just for ornament or awe. Some are designed to serve basic needs of food and clothing and development of resources. Others to serve and create concepts needed to stimulate, the human development! These self-destruct or transform to new design as needs and environments change.

So initial artefacts and their remains, along with creatures that fly, swim and burrow, become mysteries and inspirations to exercise human minds and create needed materials for the development of the human intellectual generation.

Humans would learn by attempts to do what other-life forms did. They would find uses for the resources created; they would develop strengths of mind by having to face the consequences of using intelligence before learning discipline of truth as advancing intellect required.

By learning to follow logical patterns and eliminate false leads, humanity grows to maturity. Do we wonder how is it that mathematical language from pre-history appears to be closely related to what we would expect of a lone Creator, communicating only with its creation?

But humans needed a different language and must develop to suit social structure in conformity with the order of truth in which we exist! The human language needed great flexibility to allow both community and human development.

Our science has been very reluctant to accept, or explain evidence of prehistoric times that does not fit convenient basics. Persistent efforts are made to ignore or deny evidence. To promote deceit, financial gain became a persuasive force of culture! However an examination for this generation of humanity has now to be passed.

It is now time for both culture and science to admit of logical insight and reveal the larger concept.

Clues to the nature of this creation: Luke: 16-17. "It is easier for heaven and earth to come to an end than for one dot or stroke of the law to lose its force."

Matthew: 5-18. "I tell you this: so long as heaven and earth endure, not a letter, not a stroke, will disappear from the law until all that must happen has happened."

We can now understand how this is so, and why! If the atomic structure, designed (to achieve what this creation is designed to achieve) were changed, then the entire creation would disintegrate. The law of the structure of this creation is set to achieve a specific purpose; even the Creator cannot change it before its purpose is achieved.

In grip of Humanist cultural indoctrination we shy from reality and miss logical meanings in old Scriptures.

Jesus had to reveal in parables advancing lessons and God never set instruction in stone of dogma other than those Ten Commandments. Jesus also had to correct some of the human created deformities of Old Testament teachings.

Those who think of the Scriptures as Gospel Truths rather than as guidance should give such matters more attention. The coming of Jesus was not an afterthought.

Mankind, before the time of Jesus, could not have uncovered truths difficult for us to believe today!

We are notorious for pushing personal ideas and ignoring evidence. The identity of Jesus is revealed to advancing logic as he reviewed Biblical information needing correction to direct future insight.

All confirms that we are in development. From earliest beginnings we were given glimpses of a timeless wisdom, but it would be many family generations before we gained the intellectual maturity to appreciate that we are designed for development to spiritual life.

Though we now descend to contemptible depths of moral depravity, this remains part of the learning spiral.

We find it difficult to learn that disaster results from using intelligence without the authority of truth or development of perception to achieve insight.

We are advancing, but still need to make quantum leaps of "faith in truth". Such leaps require faith to challenge the ego self. Faith in truth makes it easier to see the true meaning of statements attributed to Jesus.

Time to be honest with ourselves!

There is still understanding to gain before we can fully interpret scriptural revelation. The creation was so well designed that those dedicated to truth will increasingly sort truth from error in line with our progress.

We can now see more clearly how the answer given by Jesus relates to the question: "What is the Kingdom of God like?" Luke: 13-18.

Jesus: "What can I compare it with? It is like a mustard seed which a man took and sowed in his garden; and it grew into a tree and the birds came to roost among its branches."

The whole of this creation is from a tiny seed: an idea, (something we cannot weigh or measure) called the WORD! Jesus came to prune and water that tree for support and development of spiritual life.

Traces of basic information reach us from a dim pre-history. Asians may see the division of the spiritual dimension as Ying & Yang. Do these represent two fat sperm squeezed into a circle, one black and one white, each with an eye?

Is the eye in the light force an eye of creative vision? Is the eye in the dark force a hole in the eternal rest? Does this represent the division that created the base for life?

Is that just another concept of the division of energy at rest? The being from which our universe was created and which allowed development of spiritual humanity – a division in the eternal dimension that allowed, in our dimensions, life that makes spiritual growth possible?

Other branches of peoples trace memories of lines, angles and spirals; designs of mind's early invention were commemorated on pottery.

Still others learned of laws and numbers that enabled calculation of time spans based on movements of stars, moon and sun.

Were these 'previews' set up to maintain mysterious challenges even to this day?

Division of The Eternal allowed the creation of life; it allowed division of truth from error. Division made visible the difference between the excitement of life and the sleep of death; it allowed human development!

This division also allowed politics to invent lies for manipulation and to convert political duty to personal greed. By compulsory education it allowed corruption to sow the seed of lies in every parent of every child. It allowed dictatorship of the ignorant to be called "democracy". It allowed lies to be defended as "freedom of speech" and indoctrination of (evolution theory) as being the creator of life.

But it also allowed us to learn the difference between right and wrong! It gave us access to true democracy and invited devotion to truth. Truth, in turn, offers authority for freedom of knowledge to make our continued enslavement by lies and deceit functionally impossible.

Division allowed the conceited to defend their ignorance and enslave themselves! It allows Humanist philosophy to be exposed as death, gift-wrapped in extravaganza of selfish entertainments.

Division revealed the vital difference between truth and untruth and its consequences – truth creates life and untruth destroys life.

Those who appreciate life's potentials should now be appreciative of the forces involved along with their consequences.

Our science, for years, has spent great effort to find a uniting force to explain the construction of the universe. Stiff-necked fixation against the 'spiritual' dimension is only overcome by spiritual development.

Science has yet to accept that the force of creation is MIND. No physical law can turn energy into creative force! Energy cannot design its own change; energy has no moral concept!

The creation comes from conversion of an existence without order and the nihilism of disorder cannot cause its reversal.

Science knows that the eternal nature of order created out of energy, is decay back to its origin. An eternal dimension is divided against itself to create order and this can only occur, and be maintained, under control of the force, intellect! Only mind could create this universe in opposition to the unstructured nature of its being!

Our science searches the technology of construction to explain origins, and eventually it will, but only after we accept the reality of truth. As a popular scientist observed: "If you are on the right track things quickly fall into line; on the wrong track you are constantly faced with problems of trying to make fit things that don't fit"; or words to that effect.

The theory of creation by evolution gives us the perfect example. For over 100 years evolution theory has been in constant revision, as one plausible explanation after another has crumbled many mistakes had to be hidden.

Technology does not design itself nor know its designer. Physics cannot explain creation. Truth is being hidden in order to maintain lies.

Plausible science has offered contorted explanations for the existence of a structure that has meaning beyond the nature of its parts! There is no creation concept, no good and evil force within primal energy; these only become evident when structures are designed by intellect within laws of eternal truth.

Religions, claiming concern with our spiritual side, bog down in dogma of ideas formed during a development taking place over thousands of years. Leaders had little faith in truth because they were not sufficiently developed to understand truth. They needed evidence of miracles, but miracles, being only display of things beyond our understanding, give complete satisfaction only to ignorance.

Christian religion had not the faith to take its leader at His word, nor accept that our God is no other than, "The Truth; the way and the life". Parochial pride leads many to ignore that Scriptures warn of our primitive attitude; i.e. "They say ' I believe' but never do as I say."

To further confirm this let us look at some other comments of Jesus. The following quotes are from Matthew, although my preference is John. However other gospels are used in this treatise and the "Forum" will cover other areas if needed.

Source: The New English Bible; New Testament.

Comments attributed to Jesus:

Should we take all in the Bible as truth! The reasonable view of those who search for the truth is that even the New Testament is composed of memories handed down after years of argument and dispute. Let's look for intelligence rather than ignorant interpretations.

Love of truth advances intellect, logic and authority! Truth builds up Perception of reality and leads those who honestly seek truth to see where balance rests.

By accepting the spirit of truth as our lifetime guide we can help advance our perception of truth to separate the logical truth from simplified revelations, emotional deformities, plausible explanations, childish chatter, local culture and the competition of historic reporting. We can free our spiritual souls to perception.

Matthew: 5:33-35. "Again you have learned that they were told, "Do not break your oath," and "Oaths sworn to the Lord must be kept".

"But I tell you this: You are not to swear at all – not by heaven, for it is God's throne, nor by earth for it is His footstool... plain " Yes" or "No" is all you need say.

Matthew: 5:38-9: "You have learned that they were told, 'An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.' But what I tell you is this: Do not set yourself against the man who wrongs you."

Many teachings were corrupted, or so changed during our primitive development that some required correction by Jesus, but most original teachings of truth retain enough of their meaning to be understood by perception of logic if we persist in honest effort to gain this.

The above two quotes reveal that word decoration does not change reality – that with advance, we will become more honest and more understanding of each other:

We also have warning that many who see themselves as Christians will not pass the test. Shallow, sweet, undisciplined (good and evil excusing) interpretations from humanist authority mislead many.

We cannot avoid evil if we excuse evil. We cannot know truth if we tell/ignore lies. We cannot warn of evil if we will not speak of evil. This is the nature of laws in a creation made possible by the revealing power of opposites.

Nor are we being judgmental when we uphold the laws of our creation; the reporting of truth is not in judgment of truth, as liars and apologists for humanism love to claim, or believe, as they twist ideas to suit themselves!

Intelligence suggests the need of modifications to return scriptural quotes more accurately to truth. The cause for amazement is that so much remains clear enough to reveal to growing perception that the origin was not human.

Human ignorance deforms truth; it does not expose truth before we develop understanding of it. The truth is eternal and changeless.

Enlightening explanation should be kept in separate literature so that further advance can be related back to earliest origins. This applies until these prophets, (dressed in sackcloth) as represented by the new and old testaments, are recalled. See later in "Revelations"

Next we find Jesus being tempted by the devil. Being invited to display His power by turning stones into bread He replies: Matthew: 4:4;

"Man cannot live on bread alone; he lives on every word that God utters."

The "Word" of God is the designed plan of the creation and we are reminded that it is the "Word" – the order of the truth in the creation – that is the source of our life. We also have other advice that we can know our Creator "by the things He has made". Bread only helps maintain the physical body. To have true life we need to look to the spiritual; true life is beyond the flesh.

In another view the devil tempts Jesus to demonstrate God's protection by jumping from a height: Matthew, 4:7.

"Scripture says again, 'You are not to put the Lord your God to the test.'"

Here we are reminded that we are responsible for our actions. Asking God to take responsibility for our actions is impudent. We are gifted to develop as free beings; given choices and abilities we are responsible for our actions.

As I write I am aware of my responsibility! Do not assume that God inspires me; do as scriptures say, judge my work by its relevance to truth – that is our responsibility to the intelligence we were given.

We should forgive wrong acts knowing that good people can be misled or mistaken, but evil intent and determination to avoid truth, clearly evident, is not to be ignored.

Fortunately, in the final judgment, our judgment of others doesn't change their score, but, to ourselves, we are responsible for our actions and judgments.

As to aid good is to do good, so to aid evil is to do evil. We should try to make good decisions for we are warned:

Matthew. 7:6-7: "Do not give dogs what is holy, do not feed your pearls to pigs, for they will only trample on them, and turn and tear you to pieces."

That is a clear statement of no compromise between good and evil! Evil, when recognized, no turning the other cheek. Truth is holy; pearls are gems of truth discovered by intelligence (pearls of wisdom).

In the above is clear warning that if we give good to evil, evil repays with greater evil. We give in our values, evil repays in evil values. This is just return for either foolishness or ignorance!

Matthew: 7:7: "Ask and you will receive; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened."

This advice is often deformed to mean: Ask God for what you want! But we have already seen that we are not to put the Lord to the test and that the rain is allowed to fall on the good and bad alike. This is a reminder to search with faith and a mind open to truth.

If we have faith in truth rather than in dogma of opinion, we will be honest in our search for it. We will not seek to judge in favour of our preferences! If we knock with faith in truth we will find the way of truth open to us. Justice is in perpetual obligation to truth.

Amongst the most important Biblical words for today's people are the words: "Because you say we see (meaning we/I know) your guilt remains".

Do we have so little faith in truth that we fear to corrupt the perfection of ideas taught us by human teachers? Claim to know: is our way of refusing to consider challenge to our commitments? Is it our choice that is holy: or is it truth?

Certainty is a log-jam in the mind! As humans we cannot afford to be certain about anything, that is why we need to have faith in truth – so we will not fear to give honest respect to challenge that may offer us a closer relationship with truth – let's not fear the quantum leap.

Why do we now have so little faith in our ability to think for ourselves that we are happy to leave our thinking to those less honest with us than we with ourselves?

Do we not now see leaders turning their followers into murderers in the name of Christianity? We must be responsibly open to truth if we are to advance in truth!

Matthew: 7:13: "Enter by the narrow gate. The gate is wide that leads to perdition, there is plenty of room on the road and many go that way; but the gate that leads to life is small and the road is narrow, and those who find it are few."

This is entreaty against blindly following the mob; the sect; the peer group; the party or popular opinion. This refutes the lazy that seek to escape responsibility for their belief in the comfort of passing it to others.

We will be judged as individuals: if we bring forward a bundle of opinions set by others; what does that say of us or of what we have achieved? Have we learned nothing from life?

The mob forms to avoid the effort of individual thinking and personal responsibility. That is the easy way! Sloth is what makes so many the easy prey of evil, and is why evil promotes the peer-group and the party. Give fair hearing but give allegiance to truth alone.

Intellectual effort may be daunting at first but the greater our devotion to truth the easier life becomes; mindless adherence to party or group leads to degeneration, frustration and death.

Matthew, 7:15: "Beware of false prophets, men who come to you dressed up as sheep while beneath they are savage wolves. You will recognize them by the fruit they bear."

The Fabians society adopted the image of a wolf in sheep's clothing as its logo, these are, communist/socialist/humanist baggage carriers. Where the anti-life gains power, even greater atrocities are committed than by dogma bound theist religions. Take care; look for the meaning behind the words!

Matthew, 10:35-36: "You must not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth; I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. I have come to set a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, a young wife against her mother in law; and a man will find his enemies under his own roof."

Christianity became a religion because we were not sufficiently mature to see that Christianity is faith in truth. We are only now becoming mature enough to see that religion, bound in dogma, is closed to truth and therefore aids evil.

The sword brought by Jesus was the authority of truth. Faith in anything other than truth is faith in fantasy.

Gospellers for the humanist religion will claim that Christians live by faith in their beliefs rather than in science; but this is true of all religious fanatics. True Christians have faith only in truth. Truth is the base for life and the honest directive of faith in our Creator.

Humanist teaching denies truth but claims its own plausible explanations are science!

To try to make their stand convincing they then claim that science is the base of their faith.

Remember that in the battle between good and evil (between creative life and the peace of death) the sword of truth is our powerful weapon of choice!

Some think the battle for health, justice, mercy and life can be won with kindness and love; but kindness and love, like faith, are the productions of life! Life is the child of truth!

In life the rain falls on good and bad alike and just as those good love good, those evil love evil! Just as those good love their children so the evil love theirs!

Truth of order is the creator of life and life the creator of love. So love, like rain, may fall on all; but, starved of the truth at its roots, love will die.

Life is a configuration of energy; energy has no moral concept! It is the Perception given by truth that reveals to life the difference between good and evil and offers life direction. Love does not create life, order (of truth) creates life, love is life's product.

Truth is God of our creation. It is truth and the productions of truth that create all that is good for life and it is deceit and the productions of deceit that drain life away.

Truth gives Life! Life gives choice and truth gives choice its value.

Why is this is not obvious to every child? It is because those to whom the child turns for instruction mislead it! While bound in ignorance we are seduced into worship of the beast within.

How different it will be when we put our intelligence before base instincts and child eyes are left open to simple reality – when instruction, dedicated to encourage growth, allows mind to uncover mysteries. The chance of defeat encourages strengths to grow and mature naturally.

Matthew: 12:30. "He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters."

Here we are reminded that there is no fence to sit on at the divide between life and death. If we do not work for life, we aid its decay. Life is a positive energy of creation (While I live I grow.) When we do not create positive energy to promote life then negative energy drains life away.

We are also reminded that those with us in spirit are our close relatives rather than those of physical family. The above are not all the quotes from the Christian Bible that can be beneficial for instruction and understanding but these are offered as sufficient to justify this treatise.

Other Scriptures are quoted as needed. Though not accredited to Jesus the following could not have come from the teaching of man. Paul, quote:

"For we see divine retribution revealed from heaven and falling upon all the godless wickedness of men. In their wickedness they are stifling the truth. For all that may be known of God by men lies plain before their eyes; indeed God himself has disclosed it to them."

"His invisible attributes, that is to say his everlasting power and deity, have been visible, ever since the world began, to the eye of reason, in the things he has made."

Very appropriate for our world and for those who persist in believing the Bible to be the unadulterated word of God! It reminds us that the true Word can be seen in the things he has made; things that man cannot change.

Let us end here with a quote from John: 6:63: "The spirit alone gives life; the flesh is of no avail; the words which I have spoken to you are both spirit and life. And yet there are some of you who have no faith."

Life's reality is in truth and in spirit. These are eternal!

A reminder.

In this treatise it is suggested that energy and mind begin as combined featureless, unstructured being and that, though mind may be by nature unstructured, division and order are necessary for the creation of our human dimensions and life.

Life has many puzzles! The speed of light is not a constant but varies in relation to the medium through which it passes. Science knows this but in persisting with the assumption that space is empty it therefore assumes that the speed of light (in what we call space) is its limit. This encourages artificial concepts.

Space may not, as we assume it, be limitless. This idea may be a consequence of the fact that we assume space is nothing.

But though there may be space that is just the total absence of everything, how can there exist a space that is not contained?

To say that empty space is eternal is a contradiction in terms; if there is an eternal space then there can be nothing but space. In other words, if space were all there was to begin with then nothing cannot change, or be changed, into something.

Humanists may challenge us with the question: Who made God? But those of intelligence know humanist/evolutionists also have no answer for a first cause.

I suggest that pure space does have a form of existence, that minimum limit applies to it in relation to structure – that there is a minimum of space that cannot be divided?

It seems to me that what we normally call space is not empty as we have assumed and may be compressed by gravity, as is atmosphere, or stretched by other forces or situations. An importance of this is that pure space will also be a barrier!

If there are limits to the division of pure space then that explains the quantum leap.

A quantum is a tiny particle of energy: a tiny particle of strange behaviour! Is this (apparent) strange behaviour a consequence of this limit to division of pure space?

Is this limit itself varied by the circumstances in which it exists? When a particle of energy is on one side or other of this minimum amount of space then, in instantaneous transfer across this space, it may appear, momentarily, to be on both sides?

The leap of this space is what is called "The quantum leap". Away from earth's gravity or in some artificial situation, will this space, over which transfer is instantaneous, expand or contract?

When the truth is known, I suggest that without this leap neither movement nor thoughts, as we know them, would be possible. The speed of light: well that depends! For an instant it may be instantaneous?

We like to live within our own little mind of ideas; to escape our barriers requires a leap that can construct a new mindset and, no matter how small this leap, it is still a leap into the personal unknown.

The secret to making this leap with comfort is faith in truth; truth is our good parent: truth is the nature of order in our creation and love of truth improves mindset.

Part 3:

A light on our times

WHY do we do so many foolish things?

It is because we fear the quantum leap.

We fear to trust in truth.

Tiny detour of ego forces us to atrocity!

Science, tied to dogma, seeks a uniting force to explain our universe.

The force of universal construction is mind!

Perfect structure is truth.

A tiny divide in faith, a little devil of ego, frustrates our search for truth.

People, carrying the same Holy Bible, will fight to the death; will commit atrocities they would not believe themselves capable of; because of beliefs. Yet both sides claim the God whose word rejects their atrocities.

Just being born on opposite sides of a belief is enough to build emotion for atrocity.

Within limit of present understanding we have reviewed how we came to be. Now, after this practice in challenge to our preconceptions, perhaps we will have faith to trust truth enough to make an honest assessment of our situation.

Only with faith in truth will we take that leap of challenge to mindset.

The New World Order

Here we face the dying gasp of an old lag trying for a face-lift. But first, let's face ourselves! Don't have faith in me, have faith in truth!

As "J. Edgar Hoover, for near 50 years head of the FBI (USA) said: "The individual is handicapped by coming face to face with a 'Conspiracy so Monstrous' he cannot believe it exists."

We have many warnings of an ancient opposing force, so let's look seriously at a little of today's evidence. But remember: respect for truth is our only intelligent base for rational decision-making; the evidence given in this digest is just the bare essentials, perhaps those concerned will join in the forum to help development in self-understanding.

To further remind ourselves of the extent of our present blindness, a quote from: "Globalism: America's Demise": 1984. "Globalists wield almost limitless power because of their wealth and position ... the greatest strength they possess is that the general public ... does not even know they exist." William Bowen.

Many now know of Globalism but, beyond that, few look. In today's deformed culture, sacrifice is 'cool' but without perception behaviour lacks logic! The aim of Globalism is control! Sacrifice of our children today is equal to that of barbarian cultures and the immorality of it is unchanged!

Humanists take advantage of our selfish desires and, as we will see, adapt sacrifice to modern disguise. One purpose of this forced sacrifice is to confirm their control; when we sacrifice our children with eyes closed to ignorance or deceit so as to continue our shallow way of life, then the humanist priesthood knows its control of the mindset is secure.

Today we live in immoral lifestyle: we vote for immoral government that we know lies and deceives us: we accept life-style immorality and pass it to our children while complaining bitterly of its consequences.

We blame others when we should blame ourselves and governments use the anger generated by frustration as a safety valve. Allow people to let off steam and the pressure drops.

We approve any amount of public spending in attempt to save lives but do nothing to address causes – we refuse small self-sacrifices needed to remove our problems – but small pain, would save lives.

Selfish behaviour on roads and in alleyways of a mindless social culture enable us, more easily, to pretend death is misfortune rather than natural consequence of selfishness.

Pain is a price we pay to enjoy immoral lifestyles. Though the price is criminal, the rewards fleeting, the acts immoral and our intelligence able to see the truth, few care enough to face reality.

So let us accept that truth is a God of forgiving justice! Let us not be afraid to take that quantum leap that offers us a new mindset in natural understanding.

Let us now see that The New World Order (NWO), variously called Globalism or World Government, is firstly, not new.

Nor secondly, by human standards, is it a form of government! It is not democracy or republic! It is not paternal, dictatorial, monarchical nor theocratic! Possibly the oldest form of social arrangement on earth, we will find the origins of our cultural enslavement later in these pages.

Do not be fooled by slur of "Conspiracy Theory" that, like "Santa Claus", is a disguise; but not for fooling children – to ignore frightening evidence and feel good about ourselves, we fool ourselves.

What we now call a New World Order is not for humans! When applied to humans it is a scheme of genocide best described as cultural lobotomy. It is designed to delete human ability for "perceptive" thought processes to such extent that humans can be deprived of creative insight.

Thus indoctrinated we behave like programmed animals. We give our loyalty to plausible ideas that appeal to lazy minds and, once given, we see any deviation as abuse or betrayal. In this way we protect our self-deceit from challenge.

Benefits claimed for Humanist philosophy is that it will eliminate war and enforce order; perhaps it will, but only so far as those concepts are redesigned in minds.

False beliefs are indoctrinated into dulled minds to comfort temporary, lowly paid, workforce that does not see its form of use as abuse. In the end the comfort of sedation does not eliminate violence, pain or suffering, nor allow the satisfaction of personal achievement.

Encouragement of sex as a pleasure also serves to disguise the loss of loving relationships of the human kind.

The true nature of humanism is hidden behind insistent claim of 'caring' but selfish love locks in the sufferings of enslavement.

Humanist teachings of truth and reality use media propaganda to equate sexual pleasure with situation; there is no moral attachment. It claims truth of being for itself and neither admits nor accepts blame for the harm or pain of immorality. Nevertheless it insists on obedience within its limited perceptions!

Now increasingly visible is that law is dispensed without concern for justice; human is reduced to a biological mechanism in fixed service to those who claim godly status as masters by force.

Do we want to live as animals – do we want our human abilities deleted in childhood by secret, systematic abortion of human abilities from the child mind – have family future made irrelevant – never feel the pleasures of achievement – have human life as dependent on the needs of petty gods as are lives of cattle?

Do we want to be led back to the peace of death? Yes! We may feel fewer worries but we do retain fears. As biological mechanisms we avoid responsibilities, but end with nothing at all.

How is control achieved?

Direct evidence is well hidden but the behaviour of our educated, more especially in social, political and health areas, reveal the social controls needed for mind enslavement in their effect. Control sedates like a creeping paralysis.

Among indications that this cultural deceit was not entirely unnoticed is an old pop song called "Little Boxes". The song points to the sameness of social differences in a despairing kind of despondency as the enormity of mental genocide brings fear to face personal responsibility.

As the sickness permeates social classes, all are united in clutch of the "ticky-tacky" belief system of insects. The spirit at all levels, from the mundane to the esoteric, cries for help – or, as old scriptures say, the earth (our spiritual foundation) cries out!

Cultural Lobotomy.

Lobotomy is a crude surgical procedure for mental illness given bad publicity because of inefficiency and experiments to force change of dissident attitudes. It involves surgery on critical elements of the frontal lobe of the brain and, when used for political control, normal humans see it as a contemptible abuse.

The understanding, that to become human involves a development of individual learning basically different from the fixed potential of common animals, opened a door for cultural manipulators.

Animal behaviour is genetically confined; human behaviour develops from a learning capacity that makes each a unique and individual intellect. Human intellect, when combined with others in truth, achieves great results. Understanding of this is essential to further human development.

But knowledge also opened the door to the alternative of 'limiting and redirecting development'; a preliminary needed to create human slaves near the level of dogs and horses. Intellectual surgery is far more efficient than that physical! Done gradually and en-masse it achieves near total control.

If common intellectual individuality is suppressed, the deprived are easily led to form "peer-groups", "gangs", "sects" or "parties (political)". In this state we become addicted to the 'beast' in our personality and lose contact with our spirituality. We give our loyalty to leaders, as did primitive tribes.

As we see ourselves as animals we picture animals as caricatures of ourselves. Children are encouraged to accept this so it becomes our cultural truth. As it is happening we don't want to believe it is happening, but we know it is true.

Control learning – control belief – control behaviour! Once revealed, this needs little thought or knowledge to confirm. The Italian Marxist, Antonio Gramsci recognized this as how national cultures were formed and called it 'cultural hegemony'.

Every culture in every age has been a demonstration of the efficiency of cultural indoctrination and fixations! Beliefs true or false, when reinforced by mass approval we flock into armies and willingly die for. Gramsci saw that this could be used to rule the world but as little as 80 years ago, he did not see that it was already being used to achieve that purpose.

While every rebellion reveals potential for cultural reform these, in no way, negate the strength of control available to people in power if they use deliberate scientific behavioural principles to enslave us.

Understanding of human behaviour and use of modern communications technology allows a potential to regress culture by gradual change – step-by-step generational lobotomy – sect and peer-group isolation – each segment moved a step deeper into enslavement.

The agonies of this enforced deformity are reflected in unhealthy lifestyles; relief by drugs and artificial pleasures; hidden behind social violence, vandalism, road rage, political 'red tape' and by deliberate infliction of cruelty to animal and human.

Egocentric governments (composed of members chosen by commercial interests), ease human pain with financial slight-of-hand and laws that allow social engineers (financed by commerce), to create, in a few generations, a slave sub-culture with human physical abilities – a malleable class of beings with abilities ideal to servants or workers – a mass for control, division or culling by war and disease – a perfection of robots without danger of rebellion.

Victims, unable to understand their loss, cannot organize rebellion – reduced language leaves advanced technology to beguile and soothe our pride.

Human communication is by words of understood meanings; with this deformed, we, victims of social engineering, cannot conceive of rebellion beyond the basic animal 'complaint response' of whining or blind violence – as now common.

With language confused we reject social learning because we feel shamed by our inability to understand the culture we live in. As vandals we proclaim human rights but misapply potentials and abilities.

Social engineering needs no help of either subliminals or drugs though it promotes, and certainly takes advantage of mind deadening drugs to ease the pain of the ignorance imposed. Combined with gradualism it becomes effective and social trauma becomes comfortable with common acceptance.

As social change becomes comfortable to live with we no longer see relationship problems as self-inflicted! Engineered deformity is so simple, the commonalty see it as chance of nature although, in truth, it only happens by careful planning!

If we look honestly we can see this now being advanced by popular entertainment and progressively reinforced through education. We used to be scornful of Soviet media and news laced with propaganda but don't see it in our cultures being delivered with mass-promotion of commerce and fashions or hidden within publicity for fads, international sport, drugs, news, technological gimmickry; etc.

Available literature gives insight to tools used for deliberate redirection of human development! Cultural Hegemony (leadership) is indoctrinated with use of "Hegelian Dialectic", to target the human weakness for the lazy path of "consensus" in preference to the challenge of finding truth by trial, intellectual discussion and reasoned debate".

Hegelian Dialectic now appears universal in activities from business seminars to kindergarten teaching; culture all stuck-together with the ticky-tacky of 'consensus'.

In the name of equality Socialism seduces our innate social desires to direct low-level power to those incompetent to use it – to those who, in pride, will hand this power to their social engineer advisers!

Peer-groups, cement indoctrinated ideas into place and display with pride their contempt for truth and honesty. Despising those who escape indoctrination, they reject the reasoned paths to the logical truth that provides human fulfilment.

Our Choice – Heaven or Hell!

Plato, about 400 BC, gave us warning: He explained: when people are indoctrinated to lies, if some then try to point out simple facts the people will laugh at them.

If those persist in effort to explain what all are quite capable of understanding, the people want to kill them. A Crucifixion 2,000 years ago demonstrated this but the evident truth is never admitted.

Example: Today we sacrifice children to drugs, road death, mutilation, violent and irrational behaviour en-masse. We ignore causes we are fully able to understand. WHY? Because facing our crimes of ignorance challenges our arrogance and is too painful to contemplate!

Examples: That we live in a democracy is a lie of incessant propaganda. But any average one of us is quite capable of understanding that, if we elect to our parliament representatives chosen by private interests, those elected do not represent public interests, this is therefore not democracy in the meaning of government of the people, by the people, for the people.

We are also quite capable of understanding that, when we do this, we give the power of selecting the information on which we base our life decisions to those who deliberately deceive us. We are quite able to see this but ignore it – we are also quite able to see that they, who deceive us in service to their own interests, never serve community interests.

Quite able to see that the consequences of this will be a form of enslavement that will become progressively destructive of our lives, our future and our children; we now see the effects of this arrogance becoming clear in 'murderous war', global warming, commercial crime and common social violence.

If technological advance is compared with cultural decline we see technology, free of cultural control, advancing to create dangerous consequences because, in our use of it, we cling to mindless bondage.

If simple reality is explained this brings fear to those stubbornly resisting truth, but all who love truth become liberated. As Christian scriptures tell us, torments will increase until we admit that we are their cause and accept our responsibility! Those now seeking to defend human rights and freedoms need also smother pride to work more co-operatively.

Scriptures reassure us – spiritual intervention will abort our self-destruction but our personal responsibility remains to achieve what we can by our own efforts.

The "Great City" or "City of Commerce", also called the "Great Whore" in "The Revelation of John", is a manifestation of the anti-life today. Don't confuse commerce with industry, or forgiveness of our contempt for the gifts we are given, as lack of concern for our welfare.

Does the anti-life really want us 'dead'? Is cultural lobotomy not enough?

All not needed for labour are a waste of resources; large masses of useless consumers are a threat and the 'useful idiots' (their term) who support the program, need reassurance that they will inherit an earthly paradise. Reason, observation and perception says they want this huge dangerous surplus deleted and that the end game is the eternal peace of the anti-life.

The elitist “Global 2000” genocide plan was submitted to President Carter by the U.S. State Department and endorsed as official policy in 1980.

Don't be fooled by timing: dates are set early to negate those who give warnings. When warned-of dangers look unreal and then fail to happen on time, the public comes to see warnings as 'scare mongering'; anger rises against 'whistle blowers' and trust of manipulative governments increase.

Note 12: On January 31st: '07. ABC Australia, discussing the danger of biological warfare: Leading nations can manipulate virus and release deadly strains as weapons of war. Now openly admitted but acceptance of this is, in my experience rare; those who view such programs fail to digest their meaning. End Note 12.

Do not expect designer disease to appear in a calm cultural setting! Most likely it will be released with global financial crash – or in a setting of food shortages and growing cultural violence generated by the changed weather patterns of global warming as these forces react with artificially mixed cultures*. Don't forget: claimed protections (inoculations) are only effective (if at all) when the exact strain of virus is known!

Note 13: Different cultures, races and religions, may live peacefully together for generations, however when trouble comes history shows that these blame each other. The difference does not need be of race, or culture. Example: recent long and bitter conflict in Ireland between Roman Catholic and Protestant Christianity. End Note 13.

We feel such inhumanity is incredible, but behind the simpering face of humanism is an opponent who, we are told, does not exist. Ever thought of the fun you could have if you were invisible? Well the anti-life appears to have solved that problem – but effects remain visible.

This secret war goes beyond ownership of earth! We need face this! As our world grows hot our humanity turns cold. We did not spare native peoples in our day; anti-life/Globalism has more to fear from us – the enemy of the humanist philosophy and goal is our human potential.

Now, together with the ‘dumbing down’ of populations, Globalists have set a world scene that includes the Global Warming created by enticing a massively wasteful consumption to feed seductions of naked avarice. Evidence is in the research, logical working scientists agree that the trigger of G.W. is human! As foretold this could lead to end of life on earth.

Here we again see evident use of the Hegelian Dialectic principle. Logically there should be little question of the research evidence. That an opposition is promoted to create a division further confirms manipulation to achieve a desired outcome?

Will human opinion consolidate with truth? Will we run around in confusion until too late? Are more beginning to see the danger? With biological weapons available to quisling governments will Globalists use their options to clear all resistance during a great confusion of torments? *

 Note: 14

- 1: Government, at neither national nor international levels, is conciliatory.
- 2: Industrial production has been moved away from advanced nations.

- 3: Cultural mix of strong nations has been increased to aid dissent, division and violence.
- 4: Health services are already inadequate and unreliable!
- 5: World economic collapse, combined with a worldwide environment and health crisis, will lead to food and water shortages; power and transport failures; valueless money; rioting, civil strife, and epidemics. End Note 14.

But the anti-life force is unable to visualise future reactions! Given ignorance and misunderstanding as starters, starvation, disease and mindless violence may become pandemic to fulfil Matthew 24:21-22.

Those who think that scenario extreme should remember: wars have been created and population dumbing down has, for centuries, been deliberately promoted in both primitive and 'advanced' countries.

We have ability to learn, and those who love truth will find the courage to sacrifice their pride and turn their life-force to human benefit.

Would we, if free in thought and reason, now accept our education downgrading such basics as reading, writing and arithmetic? Would we, truly educated, not now see what Plato saw? Or fail to see that language is the foundation of human intellectual advance?

Would we fail to see that electing members chosen for us by hidden powers is not "government of the people by the people and for the people" – the simple logic that shows our government is not democratic?

Would we fail to see that giving power over government, mass media and education to alien powers would lead to our demise? Will we fail to take the simple, available, remedial political action offered by our democratic constitutions?

Enemies want us to believe we are incompetent to govern ourselves. Would we, with human abilities, have behaved so foolishly had we not been tricked into trusting those untrustworthy – were we not now indoctrinated and sedated?

Two hundred years ago when isolated communities built one-room schools to have their children taught the "3Rs" they understood what was important in education. Children then learned to face, and to cope with, reality!

Children were not then sent to school to learn artificial socialisation or to be seduced by lies to believe they were doing well when they were not trying; to learn that they had rights of equality with patents or to learn features of adult life beyond their maturity to appreciate.

In those days adult socialization advanced with maturity and adults gave children the honesty of treating them as children!

What do extreme changes in human behaviour reveal? Does hegemony offer morality? If social limits, set by reasoned human behaviour over generations are changed without logical explanation or assessment, then (not changed by common consent) they are changed by subversion!

There is no fence to sit on between life and death.

Great social advance – the entire philosophic base for human behaviour – has, within the last half century, been thrown out and replaced by a Humanistic philosophy of sweet talk and artificial attitudes to life and learning. These claimed 'advances' are conclusively contradicted by nature, consequences and logic!

We accepted (without evidence) assurance that new is better! We now ignore that advancing technology does not explain why children (and parents) no longer see need to understand life, learn from past experience, or gain the benefits of intellectual advance and discipline.

Violence in family and community escalates to keep pace with dishonesty and trickery in culture, business and government. All are encouraged, rather than restrained by law and honest exposure!

We see evidence of new social or political realities being shaped by atrocities incited to inflame public support for violence and war! But before we can escape our enslavement we must admit of it!

To reclaim access to natural human development we must accept responsibility for our governing. Only then can we regain responsibility for behaviour, philosophy, governing and (so vital) information. Then, to break the grip of ideological fanaticism, pre and primary schooling should be removed from political influence.

Children below age of eight years should be home-schooled, or schooled in local family groups with help of enlightened technical aids.

Concentration should be on basics of human discipline, communication, healthy activity and private time allowed for intellectual digestion.

National power, moved in favour of local governments, will reduce arms development. But before this can happen true democracy has to be understood, and before that can happen we have to see the danger of having belligerent or egomaniac leaders selected for us.

Worldwide cultural "Dumbing-down" should be recognized as a precursor of global warming – of huge waste of resources and pollution to upset, not only world climate but also world economy.

Moving weight of water from poles to oceans increases earthquake activity, tidal waves, volcanoes and atmospheric pollution! Moving goods produced by a slave labour economy for profitable sale in a rich economy means acceptance of slavery, inefficiency and pollution by those who claim to be civilized!

We did not plan this for ourselves we paid quislings – mercenaries trained in deceit, to plan our corruption for us.

We can no longer afford to take notice only when mass media promotions exceed sedation levels! We must act in response to our own intelligence rather than in service to those who control us!

To survive we must work to solve problems, not protest about them! We can no longer accept genetically modified food, without safeguards – drugs disguised as medication – ignorant living – politics dedicated to waste and pollution – law devoted to criminal excuse!

If we will not face it, what can we do? Is it enough to pray for forgiveness for being too stubborn to use the intelligence we were born with? Is "DO or DIE" an irrelevant choice? Gospels and science both warn that those who don't develop their gifts will lose them, but who now protests loss of our intellectual gift?

Our situation is not beyond us! Great civilizations self-destruct or collapse for lack of knowledge! To regain control we have first to concentrate on exposing the cause of our problems. For life or death, this is war!

Transfer of the Creative Force

Early Egyptian contact with Israel is well known. At the human beginning it is reported that the eternal creative force had cut itself to create Authority & Perception.

These two, an integral part of the creative intellect, would remain with the force yet also be separate to the extent that they would also serve a new force; the force we now call Humanity.

However to earn this honour humanity must first earn it by learning to honour Truth. By this we develop the spiritual intellect of Authority and Perception: TRUTH is the perfection of order. Einstein failed to find our creative force; how could we conceive of these basic forces thousands of years before we understood them?

To find the human truth we now return our search to origins to find a viewpoint not in conflict with intelligence, science or the Christian revelation.

The significance of Authority and Perception in relation to the force "Intellect", is still not recognized.

The existence of spirit is challenged as a primal force or substance of creation. But we should now be able to see and accept words of Jesus; return to early writings; combine to expose that the creative force is not a force of magic and see that humanity is a commitment to human development.

Our Creator could have made of us genetically controlled animals but that would have served no useful result. This great effort was not for trivial purpose!

Neither the original "Word" nor "Christian Testament" are control mechanisms! Instruction was left to fallible memory to fulfil the need of development; we have a simple choice: develop, or return to eternal peace. We were also given another 'Bible' for reference, one we cannot corrupt: the Creation itself.

The Revelation of John:

Past clues are only ignored until perception advances to see the consequences of truth. Here is something relevant to our times: Revelation 11–7: Quote:

But when they have completed their testimony, the beast that comes up from the abyss will wage war on them and defeat and kill them. Their corpses will lie in the street of the great city, whose name in allegory is Sodom, or Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified.

For three days and a half men from every people and tribe, every language and nation, gaze upon their corpses and refuse them burial. All men on earth gloat over them, make merry, and exchange presents; for these two prophets were a torment to the whole earth. But at the end of the three days and a half the breath of life from God came into them; and they stood up on their feet to the terror of all who saw it. Then a loud voice was heard speaking to them from heaven, which said, 'Come up here'.

If looking that up, start at 11-3. There should be no mistake that in allegorical language these two prophets represent the New and Old testaments and that the 'great city' represents the city of commercial usury. This is the time when the whole earth makes merry, exchanges presents and treats these prophets with contempt.

The 'beast' is the beast of our physical body. The two prophets dressed in sackcloth (mourning) are treated as dead! No longer dressed in black in respect for the crucifixion, the Gospels are now clothed in any colour – while we, humanity, overcome by base desires, ignore our spirituality.

Christmas is now a pagan holiday in a Christian-mocking mask! Easter more a time of rejoicing than acknowledgement of the sacrifice. How many, even among those calling themselves Christian, make any attempt to live a Christian life or know the difference between Christian and pagan – between our basic beastliness and our human spirituality.

Who, among present authorities, is prepared to come out openly and say that these two prophets are dead to present government – to force of law – education and/or official intellectual acknowledgement.

The 'city of commerce' (in allegory, Sodom or Egypt) is the arrogant "city" of deceit, fornication and usury also called the Great Whore.

Today this city can be clearly seen as the 'city of commerce'! Usury means riches gained by cheating and using the labour of others without the trader giving true value to those producing the wealth (the use of others for self gain) don't restrict to bank charges.

It establishes the mind-set that led to the crucifixion of Jesus.

Usury: culture of thieves and an abortion of justice!

Revelation of John describes the "Great Whore" and its overthrow at 17 & 18.

It takes up more than two and a half pages; read it for yourself, but here are two very revealing sections: 17: 15-18. Then he said to me, 'The ocean you saw, where the great whore sat, is an ocean of peoples and populations, nations and languages.

As for the ten horns that you saw, they together with the beast will come to hate the whore; they will strip her naked and leave her desolate, they will batten on her flesh and burn her to ashes. For God has put it into their heads to carry out his purpose, by making common cause and conferring their sovereignty upon the beast until all that God has spoken is fulfilled.

The woman you saw is the great city that holds sway over the kings of the earth.'

[The city of Commerce, she rules the governments of nations and Kingdoms that represent oceans of people.]

18:11. The merchants of the earth also will weep and mourn for her, because no one any longer buys their cargoes, ...

15: The traders in all these wares, who gained their wealth from her, will stand at a distance for horror at her torment, weeping and mourning and saying, 'Alas for the great city, that was clothed in fine linen and purple and scarlet, bedizened with gold and jewels and pearls! Alas that in one hour so much wealth should be laid waste!'

Then all the sea captains and voyagers, the sailors and those who traded by sea, stood at a distance and cried out ... 'Alas, alas for the great city, where all who had ships at sea grew rich on her wealth! Alas that in a single hour she should be laid waste!'

But let heaven exult over her: exult, apostles and prophets and people of God; for in the judgment against her he has vindicated your cause!

As you see it is spelled out very clearly what the great whore represents. What excuses have we for seeing her otherwise?

Many who read here will find this hard to face! Deceived by error, driven by shame; pride stands between truth and our development. But forces of influence (horns) will cause the beast* in us to turn against the Great Whore to her destruction.

 Note 15: The 'beast', the animal within: the base survival instincts now deformed by the anti-life. For much of history, government and industry were largely a function of their community – it was in the survival interests of community leaders that their nation be competitive.

However trading and banking interests (the city of commerce) used corporate power, (through governments) to control mass media and education (to legalise seduction of the beast within) so brought the beast under control of the anti-life. End Note 15.

The life of commerce is now international. Health and human advance of individuals and nations became increasingly irrelevant under Global directive.

Today the human cost of the commercial city is beyond imagination. It includes almost all social problems! All human debasement! It includes wars in progress and past. It has cost the death of millions by deceit, disease, sickness and profit-based health services. It includes artificial lifestyles; violence and drugs; encouragement to avarice! By these means we are led to destruction.

Great danger is posed by pollution! This is generated by artificial lifestyles that are promoted to feed appetites inflamed by titillation of greed and ego. Artificial appetites, fed by cargoes transported across the globe in service to profit generated by usury and deception – insatiable avarice is sustained by pollution and violence.

Twenty years ago those trying to get support for inventions to provide clean, cheap fuel were ridiculed along with all who supported them. No funding available! Today large manufacturers, seeking to profit from environment, produce those prototypes.

In a few years of honest development we could be generating power needs of families more reliably and cleaner than done by cumbersome power networks.

In many areas farmers, for generations, have sustained families with pure rainwater caught on their house roofs. Certainly they used it carefully but with simple water purification, wash-water can now be re-used.

Problems of water purification have useful household solutions, its up to us to reverse our commercial political mindset.

Artificial needs will be reduced by destruction of the Great Whore. Families will become less dependent in transport; power, water and manufacture; nations will return to service the bulk of their own needs.

Those who would have us first spend energy on replacement equipment do not want to ease the danger. At this critical stage we need to balance new production with saving. We can't pollute our way out of pollution problems. We need sacrifice not usury.

As prophesied: Matthew 24:21-22: Selfish greed and ignorance could destroy humanity. However 'Horns' of influence will turn the beast in us against the whore (the beast puts survival before all else). Publicity is a "horn of influence"; we can all promote, expose and truthfully face our problems.

Blatant corruption will continue until the Great Whore is destroyed; ego hates truth for exposure of anti-life evils including the wasted lives of those who are employed in life-wasting service to non-productive commerce. Wasted lives and pollution serves the city of usury.

To become fully human we grow intellect as we overcome difficulties. We were told that during development intellect is faulty – also that, for understanding, we should look to both past and present.

The torments mentioned in Revelation will grow as we resist facing our crimes, however the physical pain is trivial in comparison to what is gained by overcoming our stubborn defiance of truth.

Love truth, for on truth, reality depends.

In Part 4, we glimpse the 'devil' in our times. As we end this essay the paper saving printout makes understanding easier and also helps with introduction to friends.

A time to pause and consider:

Don't blame politicians for the takeover of governments, workers for the takeover of industries, teachers for the takeover of education or parents for the takeover of parenting. We all share blame!

Many will also find Part 4 challenging! Most have no idea how serious the human situation is. The DVD of "Crude" is accessible on the www.gniebxbeing.org.uk site at Global Warming. This window on the past exposes future potentials. Though not everything is exposed we can certainly see the danger of failure to act with intelligence.

Part 4:

To Be or not to Be?

Our hidden Nemesis:

The Book of Enoch reveals that those in charge of early human development revolted against God. However, given development of understanding of our creation and of ourselves, we may see this as less a rebellion and more a part of the eternal resistance that challenges our intellect and, in that way, forces our development.

As we gain in maturity we may come to see this as less an evil but we must also see that it is no less a danger. As the Christian Testament warns us, this evil remains.

The work of the anti-life extends its challenge down the ages! We do not need to identify its agents to defeat them; it's their influence we need eliminate. However there is one deserving of mention for he confirms the pestiferous sowing of seed in the child mind – the seed of ideas we see blooming as suffering and strife in our culture today. Matthew 13.24-30.

Services such as: roads, railways, hospitals, all show needs outgrowing our ability to service! International problems multiply because of the ego and ignorance of ignorant submissive governments! Robbers run wild in commercial enterprises!

In full knowledge of it we elect those who present themselves in arrogance and lust for power. The result is pollution of our environment, of intellectual development and of health! Masses of people being held in captivity to irrational and intransigent mind set or belief!

The earth may seem to be too big for puny humans to upset, but all balance can, by its nature, be seen delicate. If our education was honest to our needs all would know that ocean currents, in control of earth's temperature, are governed by change of water temperature as currents flow from tropics to Polar Regions.

We have only to look back at earth's history to see how small change to this heat management system can take our planet from life friendly to life deadly. We can't escape blame. We have been just too lazy to govern ourselves!

Not only is it quite within nature that these changes can be triggered by human activity but 2,000 years ago we were warned that we would set in motion changes that could destroy us.

If we think drugs and murders in schools are unpleasant, then we must realize that we are now in what may be called, "the calm before the storm". We do have choices; we do have intelligence to understand cause and effect. We are not told the whole truth about global warming.

Truth is deformed by greed to sell us industrial production that produces worse pollution than we already have.

So let us look at an enemy personified! Quote: "Auguste Comte (1798-1857). Sociocracy was Comte's concept of the ideal form of government for the future of the world. Comte also made up the terms, 'socioLOGY,' and 'socioLATRY.' ...

"Sociolatry is the form of worship he invented to overtake and replace all the religions." Quotes from: "Sociocracy – not for the USA": by Erica Carle.

Comte laid the foundations of what he claimed was a new science, but his atrocious contempt for the human potential, reveal his ancestral line. Attack through children; mislead the innocent; a crime warned against 2,000 years ago.

It appears that Comte was not very popular in his time but his plan for the future demonstrated that he knew the buttons to push (the seed to sow), to get his theories accepted in like minds and adapted for use with cunning and force as technology advanced.

"Sociocracy" (Globalism) is a form of enslavement to automation as of insects, a form of control not a form of government.

Any government, even dictatorship, needs have regard for the welfare of those governed! National governments need citizens able to compete with other nations in order to survive.

Sociocracy survives by destruction of intellect! Unable to survive honest intellectual competition it can only survive in a plan for global government – it cannot allow human freedom of development as it, in no way, serves those it enslaves. It has contempt for truth!

Sociocracy is a parasite; it lives off the healthy body! Its level of persuasion is the 'plausibility' of argument: the 'loyalty' of emotion: the 'seductiveness' of bribery.

Sociocracy (Globalism) is without Human grace. Its attitude to education alone unmasks it. Quote: "Control begins with children, so control of education at all levels is demanded by the sociological priesthood."

Comte knew that subversion of the mind must begin in childhood! He knew that culture of nations was governed by the philosophy of the people! He knew that if he engineered change to the mindset of the educated people of the world, he could control behaviour to self-destruction!

But such manipulation is not accepted by intelligence after normal development to maturity. Seed must first be set in the minds of children who would become parents for his "New World Order".

This seed now resides in the Social Engineering departments of commerce and its agents are the 'people shapers'; the social engineers who promote the Humanist philosophy at every cultural level.

The deceit that was planned in the past is now operating in your mass media, in your industry, in your school, in your mind. No matter where you live in any advanced nation, the influence is there. You are being urged to change all your light bulbs to kinds that use less power but they do require power to produce and at the end of their lives they may release pollutant much more dangerous than those discarded.

Deceit has been made acceptable to your mind by every entertainment and selection on your mass media; laws and services of your government, under whatever name it claims to govern, protect it! Called the mark of the beast, the beast, fed by deceit, lives within us!

Industrial Globalism, with very little opposition, has now become well established throughout the world. Its influence, through the financial power of commerce, the seductive power of wealth and the fear of armed force, is spread worldwide.

It well demonstrates the power of gradualism when combined with the power of deceit when corrupt forces hold the reins of information and commerce.

Quote: "The systematic direction of the education given to all classes alike rests solely with the priesthood, which thus obtains a basis for its consultative influence on the whole of human life, private as well as public. All of us have to work together, but the noblest share in this work is specially reserved for the priesthood. SYSTEM OF POSITIVE POLITY (SPP), Vol. III, P. xxxii. in: "Sociocracy – not for the USA"; by Erica Carle.

Comte did not believe in truth! The education he promoted stood against truth.

But he, and those submitting to his scheme, do not have the gifts of Authority and Perception: the foresight of consequences!

A note from Erica on the writings of Comte includes: "My main campaign for many years has been to awaken people to the fact that social science is a fraud and sociology is a destructive pseudo science."

Although Comte died in 1857 one can still predict from his books because he planned the entire so-called New World Order. Everything is there, and a large percentage of NWO promoters were inspired directly and indirectly by Comte's writings, including Blavatsky, Bellamy, Dewey, Roosevelt, Theodore Herzl, Annie Besant, etc. ... his books are almost impossible to find and also they are terribly heavy and boring to read.

I am sure if sociology could be eliminated from education it would make a huge difference. ... I keep wishing others would write the truth about sociology from their own areas of interest. This would be especially valuable if Christian teachers and ministers could understand and help. That is difficult because, not understanding that sociology is a Christian-hating religion, Christian schools and colleges also teach it.

Everything about the NWO is connected. Social science is one very important connection that can help one understand the power and progress that the NWO has achieved. They have had more than 150 years to work toward their goal, but a good dose of the truth could still make a difference." Erica Carle Thanks Erica, that is an excellent summary; the anti-life has a long history of well-disguised truth. Even limited quotes expose that his claims of "continuous improvement of Humanity", mean, "for the continuing advancement and security of this enslaving priesthood"! To secure this, all human intellectual vision and individuality must be under controlled direction.

My congratulations in seeing that even theist religion, dead in dogma, is under the influence of anti-theist religion!

As meanings of words are confused, meaningful language is destroyed and humanity becomes a hive with a dictatorial priesthood presiding as the queen bee. Improvement of the system, means detail control of hive activity to maintain work dedicated to 'Love' of the hive for benefit of the priestly establishment.

The "system of positive polity" is now, in industry, called 'governance'. "Red Tape" destroys the efficiency of private business and delays and discourages the introduction of efficient and cleaner technology. It does not cost us more to be clean it just requires a different mind-set. A mind set to clean technology.

Industrial management is increasingly regimented. Individuality is suppressed as creative potential is directed to slavish pursuit of wealth. Commercial management-programs give huge bribes to divert concerns from the quality of the production to pride in themselves.

Meanwhile the religious ideal of Sociolatry is being expressed in the "Worship of Nature" invented as the substitute worship "to overtake and replace all the [other] religions".

So, although this idea is bitterly anti-theist, it is, itself, nevertheless a religion. It is a religion based on faith in emotion, unconditional (blind to morals) love, and total contempt for truth.

Having infiltrated theist religions it then uses its contamination of these to further discredit them.

The enslaving Priesthood sees itself as above common class; it is god! In the classless State the classless "commonalty" will, at all levels, be indoctrinated to total love (service) of the hive (State).

Sociocracy is now in a world-wide development under the name of socialism. It is presented as loving. "Humanist Philosophy" but the addition of "ist" to "human" makes of it pretence, the "human-loving" pretence will vanish when the takeover is completed.

Humanist ideology reveals its Sociocracy origin with its encouragement for adolescent creation of deformed words and meanings; also by its own deletions of words and revisions of meaning (as instigated by Comte and pointed out by Orwell).

Yes, Comte clearly had a very sound understanding of the anti-life goal. Because his spiritual mindset does not recognise truth, his alignment is with the common animal. He promotes these as being at one with humans. Those who follow his trail see that both Hitler and Stalin used his ideas.

As a contemporary, Charles Darwin was not of the same intellectual rank, but Darwinian theories were popular with dissident minds. Darwin was promoted because his theories combined well with, and greatly helped, the development of Sociocracy as exhibited in our world today. Now another look at Comte; Quote:

"In the positive sociocracy of the future, the scientist-priests of the religion of humanity, having acquired positive knowledge of what is good and evil, would sternly hold men to their collective duty and would help suppress any subversive ideas of inherent rights. Saint-Simon had suggested that in the future the domination of men over men would be replaced by the administration of things. Comte now argued that the "things" to be administered were in fact human individuals.

Human relations would become "thingified." Just as in the eleventh century Pope Hildebrand had for a brief moment extended his spiritual power over all temporal power, so the High Priest of Humanity, armed with a scientific knowledge the Pope could not yet command, would institute a reign of harmony, justice, rectitude, and equity.

"The new positivist order, to quote some of Comte's favorite formulae, would have Love as its Principle, Order as its Basis, and Progress at its Aim.

The egoistic propensities to which mankind was prone throughout previous history would be replaced by altruism, by the command, Live for Others. Individual men would be suffused by love for their fellows, and they would lovingly venerate the positivist engineers of the soul who in their wisdom would incarnate the scientific knowledge of man's past and present and the lawfully determined path into a predictable future.

" ... this aspect of Comte's work must be kept in mind in relation to his life and to the social and intellectual context in which his work emerged.

From Coser, 1977:12-13. Underline added.

As we see, beings, in our mould, claim the right of gods to re-create us within limits of their ideals so that we accept the self-destructiveness of time and finally come to accept death as a welcome release.

Emotional use of "mother love" words fails to hide the intent from those who have intellect to honour truth.

We see that Comte reveals life as it would be when its structural base is changed from love of truth to a love of self, this confines it to a stagnant order. But the truth of order is the structural foundation for progressive life and it is this life that builds bridges to spiritual love.

Neither love nor life nor faith has moral base on its own. Only truth gives moral direction to reveal what order and behaviour is good for life and what order and behaviour is destructive of life. Without truth, life is without direction, or ability to plan its survival.

Small change, the realignment of love or faith to emotion rather than to truth, is the equal of changing a plus sign to a minus sign at the beginning of a mathematical equation; it has the effect of reversing all that follow: all word symbols for good are reversed as life proceeds. All order of life, is detoured from advance to futility.

The above needs be read with care; underlining in quotes may help reveal that the plan, though expressed positively, is empowered by the arrogance of ignorance – by a being that lacks the authority and perception of truth. If accepted it leads to the elimination of all human potential – it is nihilist.

Comte appeared aware of great advance to be made in technology; he understood the influence of the beast in the human body.

His education helped him read the signs! He set seed in place to rally those of his mindset and direct advances to the advance of Sociocracy, but without authority of truth in his perception he was unable to see consequences and unable to understand the allegorising in forecasts made by Jesus.

We need be quite clear as to the origins of sociocracy and of its non-de-plume of socialism – the anti-life science it venerates – the form of 'justice' we see in its degrading control of meanings – its human rights and legal protections for criminals – the planned-for replacement and deliberate encouragement of adolescent debasement of language in the cause of suppressing human development – of telling children lies about their lack of achievements so that they 'feel good about themselves'.

Deceits cloaked in love are not just deceits, they are despicable deceits! They take advantage of trust to build weakness where strengths are needed; they turn potential for success into potential for failure and potential for love into potential for hate.

This is a war against humanity! It is not a negotiation of individual choice between the satisfactions of life or the peace of death. No negotiation is taking place!

To suppress intelligence and keep people ignorant of the living adventure of life, encourages negatives of choice and inflicts many pains of mismanagement.

The above reveals those of other than 'human potential' as they promote nihilist culture today. But beyond that they are powerless. We have nothing to fear but our own adolescence and all we need do to overcome this is to encourage the quantum leap with faith in truth.

The first moon landing was reported as something of 'a small step for man a great leap for mankind'; a comment related to technology. People, now frustrated by conflicting opinions, fear to take a stand; we are not inspired and are led to believe there is nothing we can do! But there is something everyone can do!

No need for marching in the streets; writing to captive politicians or harassing friends. Just set your will to change your mindset from the negative of denial to the positive desire for truth. Let this be your own personal, first 'small step' to becoming part of a great human leap.

The Quantum Leap:

Before you began this treatise, no matter what religion you followed, or race or culture; all philosophy and mind-set were under pressure of contamination by humanist ideology and mass media propaganda. All Christianity was being converted to religion!

Are we now ready to harvest-and-burn the seed of corruption that has been scattered among the seed of life? Are we ready to see that Jesus promoted truth not creed?

Religion has no moral without truth and truth has no need of religion for religious faith serves any master.

Are we now ready to clear contamination and save the healthy seed as foretold?

The forces that created Global Warming – that triggered the earth change now beginning – will not be stopped by action proposed by quisling government agencies. Their action is the equal of washing the decks of the Titanic after hitting the iceberg.

The waste of a consumer culture was promoted in the cause of creating havoc and securing control. Planting trees to allow commerce to produce more pollution is not an intelligent response. Nor is rejecting action on grounds it would lower living standards (as measured in waste). Plant the trees & cut the pollution.

Every advance of Global Warming (GW) not only leads to lower living standards but also to a more difficult fight for survival.

Globalism – The New World Order – Humanism – it is time to expose these as agencies of the anti-life force.

We finish with a short review:

Before the intelligence that created us could begin to gather the understanding needed for the task, it had to create a language – to picture to itself what it was doing it had to create a base for memory.

Language is the base precursor of intellectual development. It is the means of both creating understanding in mind and transmitting understanding to other minds.

It also made transfer of truth from the purely spiritual to the physical human possible but our language and its direction of revision, is now under control of the anti-life force.

At the time of our creation our creator gave us basic information about ourselves.

Although we had still to develop the spirits of Authority and Perception so as to gain true insight and creative ability, we had the capacity of group memories. This was sufficient that, years later, enough was written for future enlightenment and reconstruction.

Our Scriptures:

The word of the Bible (as we have it today) is clearly not the unadulterated "Word of God". However enough is within ancient texts to be acknowledged by advancing perception as we progress.

That we are being challenged to develop our spiritual intellect is more clearly seen – more clearly visible to reason – more basic to love of TRUTH, as we gain more of the understanding we were created to develop.

In Christian scriptures we are told our logic, during the adolescent phase of human development, is faulty; are we still arrogant enough to ignore this as we bow to simplistic Humanist interpretations and emotional reconstructions.

We have only to acknowledge that our creator is intelligent to see that much of what we have is not compatible with a great intellect. Corruption of the Word is well exposed by honest research.

More will be revealed once we put our collective minds to it and admit our potential for creative intellectual growth, this potential will bloom to finally overcome the arrogance of ignorance.

We cannot blame God for pain we create as we use our love of ego to resist love of truth. Great as we see our suffering, it is trivial if related to what is to be gained.

So we find that the Old Testament has been selectively re-assembled, even as late as needed for European Christianity. Earlier, at the time of Israel's reconstruction in partnership with Judea, (after Assyria overran Israel; remnant fled to Egypt; Exodus) are signs of revision having been extensive.

Judaism (at the time of this reconstruction) would have had a major influence on the Old Testament revision that followed. It may well have been at this time that some remnants left in Egypt were deleted from the revised Old Testament.

New Testament memories were also selectively picked over to serve adolescent human egocentricities.

So let's be dedicated to truth above all indoctrination and dogma; let's accept our Creator as an intelligent creator; let's admit an intelligent Creator did not give divisive and confusing information but did give intellectually challenging information.

Intellectual problems are exams that life has to pass in order to gain enlightenment. As Jesus confirmed, it is truth, not religion that brought morality into the world.

Religion is not our saviour, it may serve any god – any faith-based philosophy, based on 'plausible' or the occult can gain faith as religion.

Religion is the natural realm of the "Watchers" who, as described in the "Book of Enoch", were to watch over early humanity. However lust for those in their care, led them into rebellion against God and we now find them still spiritually in revolt and lust still inspires them.

These still work to undermine the true word and promote the anti-life religion of Humanism. By use of the principles of Hegelian Dialectic they seek to achieve their desired outcome.

A major work in their Hegelian Dialectic plan is the two-faced political-party system (already well explained) and the two-faced religious system where intelligent creation is placed in opposition to chance creation. It is also in constant use with smaller issues: the two sided global warming debate and many other artful cultural divisions.

Many variants within each issue serve as discredits for promotion of argument and distraction. Whatever subject is debated; the balance is evened in pretence that all views are equal. Thus logical intellectual exchange and natural solutions are avoided.

A TV two-part series called "Root of all evil" gave very clear example of how extremes of fundamentalist religion are combined with distortion of science to give false credit to chance evolution!

Silly opposition positions are highlighted and played off against each other to avoid the rationale of true Christianity.

Nevertheless the basic problem is our own! As we deny our intelligence and struggle with the beast within we empower our enemies. In frustration we concentrate on our, now very artificially stimulated, animalist desires.

But our stumbling block may become our stepping-stone when we find ourselves on the edge of oblivion with nothing to hold to! Those sincere among us will find faith in truth to make the quantum leap to the safety of intellectual understanding.

We should remember that The Old Testament also serves as base for Islam where Mahomet replaces Jesus; for Judaism, which does not recognise Jesus; the Coptic (ancient Christian Church of Egypt) and Eastern Orthodox churches, these all have selective preferences in their version of the Old Testament.

Though not reported in our New Testament the coming of Jesus can be seen to have unravelled the Israeli/Judean union! Israel, now dispersed in Christianity clearly leaves modern Israel as Judean.

We understand today's world better when we accept that the tribe chosen to carry the Old Testament through past time was Israel, and that those most ardently attacked by the anti-life are those now called Christians.

As intellectually developing children of our Creator we should now see the reality of the Creative Force needing to share part of itself: this was a procreative event. The creation of humanity meant sharing basics of the Intellectual Self (Authority and Perception); these are only transmitted as productions of Truth in service to spiritual development. The human creation also meant compromise with the anti-life force as a stimulant to the human development.

Our creator knows us so well as to foresee that, in the beginning, we would forget or misuse enough given knowledge to create the challenge and pressure needed to stimulate and begin our intellectual development – that we would retain, over passing years, enough vital clues for our advancing perception to re-assemble, in progressive accuracy, as we develop our need to know.

This perfection of planning may seem like magic to us who, only in recent times, have began to understand the importance of challenge for the development of intellect – the challenge that humanist philosophy now seeks to remove from child raising, along with discipline.

Confirmation of a 'bridge' of intelligence related to our creation is seen in that the parts fit together to a logical order of principles that give structure the strength and stability to serve the purpose of its design; this, irrespective of its parts being in flesh, metal, or ideas.

There is no evidence that any intelligence exists outside that created by this, initially single, intellect. By accepting our Creator's intelligence, then using this ability, we access understanding of our creation.

We should now be able to see that TRUTH is the expression of the reality of the order of life in which we exist!

Our bodies are created, as we were told, from the elements of the earth and our spiritual growth is generated by our will to accept truth in conversion of the eternal energy to the form of spiritual intellect.

When our bodies depart from true order we become sick; when our behaviour departs from the order of human culture we become culturally sick.

If we pursue pleasures rather than exercise discipline for creation of further advance, creative energy dissipates. We then run out of energy for maintenance of order and decay in both body and spirit.

Perception of truth begins with love of truth! It cannot be gained from pursuit of ego-based desire, nor forced on us by an egotistic God!

In the book of Revelation we see beings perpetually bowing to God. This represents the respect given by intelligence to truth. We see this clearly when we see that the image of God in which we are created is Truth, a spiritual image. We then see that those apparently grovelling beings are bowing to reality – not to an image of pride and arrogance!

We bow, in acceptance of the structure of the life in which we are created; we acknowledge that we cannot live and be creative without the reality of truth.

Bowing to the reality of truth reveals maturing of mind to admit of and accept reality. We bow to acknowledge our intellectual responsibility.

So let us use our gift to see truth in ancient writings! At each stage of our development we are able to know our Creator well enough to complete the picture sufficient to serve our development. An ideal childhood!

When we study the testament of Jesus with love of truth, we see clearly that our God represents the truth of our creation and that truth is the key to all beneficial creation. So we step forward in our development of perception to know truth better.

Entering the "end times" of this generation* of humanity, the false human right of 'freedom of speech' will be amended to the true human right of "Freedom of Truth"!

A city of humanity will then replace the city of commerce. The "City of Commerce" (as forecast) is near its end! This releases the huge unproductive slave-force to human benefit.

Note: In scriptures "generation" may represent a "generation" of humanity not a family generation. Translations from limited vocabularies need be allowed for.

When we understand that "Truth is the reality of the order in which we exist" the benefits bestowed by advancing intellect will quickly restore damage done to innocents before the first resurrection.

Following this we see a second "generation" of human development leading to the second judgment.

Of Humanity:

In this creation, Humanity is given potential to learn, understand and create for future need. Logical consequences fit logical clues. We now near conclusion of recent centuries of 'challenge'.

Let's review the thoughts and rules set for this review:

- 1/ Where we cannot know the actual facts we are restricted to the logic of intelligence which must mesh with, or confirm, clues given by an unknown life force and;
- 2/ Not ignore best established scientific understanding.

So we find a reality of division from which all of creation develops; a knowledge that has been with human development from the beginning as is seen in many cultures on all continents.

The idea that a uniquely arrogant class of mankind should abort and convert humanity to equality with insects is more despicable than most see as possible for humans to be. And it is; it represents the anti-life's attempts to return all creation to its origin and all energy to rest.

Humanity will be victorious! That is its destiny! We suffer only in accord with our intransigence.

Though Globalist anti-life forces now control cultural belief, gospels reveal that before the 'harvest' of life, the 'seed' of this deceit will ripen and be exposed to destruction. In culture we now see the flowering of the deceit sown.

Meanwhile those willing to use their gifts with respect for truth and think for themselves can help the misled avoid suffering by living example of our freedom. Help humanity unite and advance in unity with truth: use the 'horn' of public literature to help human enlightenment.

Perception and Authority allow us the foresight fore-shadowing all true creation. As we learn to express our gifts we gain courage to sacrifice our primitive being.

We will see that our compulsory education has become compulsory 'indoctrination', and throw off our shackles! Our stagnation turns to growth as we become responsible for our actions!

Human children need encouragement to uncover their abilities and develop in the truth of their individualities. In that way we learn to love truth, despise deceit and develop the potential of perception to avoid suffering the violence of being moulded to life within oppressive fantasias.

In ages before books and TVs could be imagined. At a time when simple words/sounds sufficed for ideas carried in memory, we were told of our future. Now with Truth and advance of perception, our science rapidly increases our ability to understand the complexity of the biological creation. As we develop our abilities we will not be misled. There is no known force (other than a great intellect using the limitless power of time) that could create either the physical universe or biological life. All true creation is seeded in mind!

The confusion caused by deliberate deceit restricts but does not change our potential. Those who now resist use of intellect (keep minds closed to advance) will, as Revelation says, find torments increasingly challenging to them.

The spirit gives us the Will; the intellect gives us the Concept; the Truth of order creates the time for the Will to find the way. Thereby we are enabled to create all that life offers!

Matthew: 7: 21-23; (repeat); 'Not everyone who calls me "Lord, Lord" will enter the kingdom ... When that day comes, many will say to me, Lord, Lord, did we not ... Then I will tell them ... "I never knew you."

Many serious Christians now see we are in the 'end times'. Why are so few looking for improved understanding? Why are we letting dogma restrain our desire to know our Creator better?

Satan challenges Jesus to throw himself down ... Jesus replies to say that we should not put our God to the test.

But how many Christians today are ignoring the words of Jesus and taking the advice of the anti-life to leave it to God to save them?

Truth is essential to the physical and spiritual being of life; flesh is the disposable conveyance and love is our spiritual comfort.

We still need God's mercy! But if we do not see life as worth our effort – are not willing to act in our own cause, then we get what we choose! Remember: there is no fence between good and evil. If we don't work for – we serve against.

In another parable, we are advised to use our talents: if we bury them we lose them. Now that we can see clearly what our creation is about it should be clear that this advice was about our gift of human spiritual talents, not 'talents' as in money.

True Christians listen! No excuse now for seeing Christian revelations in terms of earthly values; we develop our intellectual gift. The Word of our creator is to be seen within the incorruptible creation.

Those who follow the anti-life claim ancient literature could have been written by anyone! Of course, anyone can write what they like, words have no morals they are just the tools for describing ideas born in mind! Neither ideas nor faiths have morals until truth is part of the picture! Good and evil is revealed to allow human escape from the traps of the anti-life.

Any claim can be made by anyone but does the claim live within the structural truth? Could we ourselves, really have foretold, in the distant past, the truth of things we neither knew of nor understood? Example: Isaiah 3:1-5 "Be warned: the Lord, the Lord of hosts, is stripping Jerusalem and Judea of every prop and stay, a warrior and soldier, judge and prophet, diviner and elder, captains of companies and men of rank, counsellor, magician, and cunning enchanter.

"Then I will appoint mere boys to be their captains, who shall govern as the fancy takes them: The people shall deal harshly each man with his fellow and with his neighbour; children shall break out against their elders. ..."

Can any say: that is not the way we are going? Our leaders today may be adult but are certainly not mature as adults. This ending is just beginning. Will man treat harshly with his fellow and neighbour? With road-rage appearing and races and cultures mixed in artificial philosophy casualties are already appearing.

Did you notice the USA in Jer-usa-lem? The USA is the primary descendant of European cultures, if today it represents Jerusalem is that Coincidental? Life goes around in a spiral form of cycles, it advances to different levels and forecasts do fit similarities progressively.

Concluding thoughts

*Self-sacrifice is a vital element of human love; it involves the compassion that gives love meaning! So it is very important to the spiritual 'gene'! The true nature of "human self-sacrifice" is also evidence that Christian revelation is genuine.

Be aware of errors in translation: before printing the vocabulary of the pheasant was very limited. Example: Matthew, 12:7. "I require mercy not sacrifice". This should now progress to be "I require the self-sacrifice of compassion; not gifts".

First Correction was needed because of advance from the primitive where it related to sacrifices to God. By the time of Jesus this was obviously out of date and corrected. Growing maturity now reveals that the gift our parent wants can be seen as the gift of our advance.

Gift to God is a sacrifice to truth and our meaningful gift to our Creator is the self-sacrifice essential to our intellectual advancement.

The true meaning of human self-sacrifice would not have been apparent without guidance. Without the authority of truth, intellectual self-sacrifice (willingness to sacrifice false belief) has no meaning.

In a mindless creation (were it possible) self-sacrifice would be as meaningless as pity in a world where deceivers claim there is no truth while also claiming that what they tell us is the truth.

Be assured: sacrifice to God is sacrifice to Truth i.e., John 14:6 "I am the way; I am the truth and I am life; no one comes to the father except by me."

Who is the beneficiary of human sacrifice? We sacrifice values that are faulty or have been outgrown as required to gain spiritual and intellectual growth. The gift a parent wants is the healthy development of the child. Those of good intent should act while torments are small!
